Fund Lack Cuts Work On Streets

City Curtails Repair Jobs

A shortage of funds has forced the city to curtail street repair operations for the remainder of the year, E. W. Davis, street superintendent said today.

"The work that will have to be curtailed is the permanent repairing of water department dig-ups," Davis said.

He explained that the water department has opened approximately 500 streets this year to install new residential water and sewer taps and repair broken water lines. The majority of the dig-ups were to make repairs.

"Because of a lack of money, we are going to have to lay off at least six of our 18 hourly men, which will leave us with a staff of approximately 36 men.

"The department will continue to patch streets, repair dirt streets, but brick sealing and dig-up repair work will have to be halted until next spring," he said.

DIG-UP WORK COSTLY

After meeting with the finance committee of city council, Davis decided to curtail the dig-up repair work, as that is the most expensive work, requiring more men and materials than the other type of activities.

At this time of the year, personnel that might normally be used for repair work is busy keeping the streets clear of falling leaves.

"We'll keep the open dig-ups repaired as much as possible by filling them with loost dirt to prevent damage to car springs," the street superintendent said.

He pointed out, however, the leaving the dig-ups open during the winter is not good for the streets, because alternate freezes and thaws undermine the street. Besides, no matter how vigilant the department is, the dig-ups are certain to sink down during temporary winter freezes.

Davis said the street department has repaired approximately 350 of the dig-ups this year, but nevertheless the department is still behind about 150, the normal lag.

Gaming Hit By Citizens

RAVENNA —(INS)— Formation of a good-government group to fight wide-open gambling in Portage county, today aroused interest in the election campaign in Ravenna.

The new civic organization is headed by Robert White, dean of the college of education at Kent State, and Robert Stockdale, Ravenna high school speech instructor.

The purpose of the group, they said, is to improve the quality of public service in the county.

"We feel that we no longer can be a party to poor government in Portage county," they declared in a statement.

Failure of present officials to enforce gambling laws inspired the formation of the new group, it was said.

Rail Strike Flares In Newfoundland

ST. JOHN, Nfld. —(INS)— Railroad transportation in Newfoundland remained virtually paralyzed today in the wake of a strike of 2,500 government railway workers.

Picket lines were thrown around railroad yards, terminals, docks and machine shops yesterday to enforce the rail workers' demand for a 15-cent an hour wage increase.

Man, 76, Makes Parachute Jump

FOSSTON, Minn.—(U.P.)—Walter Morgan, 76-year-old farmer who made a perfect parachute jump just "to show the youngsters what an old man can do," said today he plans to do more of the same."

Morgan planned the jump for more than a year, but previously was thwarted in his efforts when pilots refused to take him up.

President Again Rips At Congress

Shakes Hands With Democratic Leaders

By IRVING LEIBOWITZ
(N-J State Editor)

WILLARD—President Truman carried his "Give 'Em Hell" fight for re-election to this railroad division town, Akron, Fostoria and other key industrial cities in northcentral Ohio late yesterday, all the while attacking the "80th do-nothing Republican Congress" and urging the repeal of the Taft-Hartley law.

Under a dark, gloomy sky, the President greeted an estimated crowd of 3,000 at the Willard station who heard him alternately blast inflation and praise Dan Willard, former president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad for whom the town was named.

Frank J. Lausche, former Democratic governor, shared the platform with the President, Mrs. Truman and their daughter, Margaret.

LAUSCHE BACKS HIM

The trip marked the first time in his career as a Democrat that Lausche boarded a presidential bandwagon. In Akron he made a short speech urging the support of Truman against the "mossback reactionary Republicans."

In his opening remarks, Truman said he was glad to be in Willard even for a short stop. Warmly praising the memory of Dan Willard, the President began:

"Dan Willard did not sneer at the 'whistle stops' of our country. He trusted people and people trusted him. That's a good way to run a railroad and it is a good way to run a country."

After his brief talk, Truman met and shook hands with local and state Democratic personalities, including Willard Mayor Roy Snook, and Harlow Stapf, chairman of the Huron county Democratic executive committee.

The President posed for photographers with six-year old Donna Evans, daughter of Roy Evans, a Willard trainman.

In Akron, thousands of persons lined the streets waving miniature American flags and shouting "Hello Harry" during an impromptu parade staged when White House authorities switched the talk indoors.

Only one incident marred the otherwise bright and shiny "welcome" mat Akron's Democrats rolled out for the chief executive. A small but noisy Progressive

Extradition Case Studied

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Ohio today began investigating the claim of a 21-year-old war veteran that his return to a Florida prison camp would mean certain death.

Gov. Thomas J. Herbert yesterday ordered Atty. Gen. Hugh S. Jenkins to determine whether Fred M. Fox, wanted to serve out a ten year prison sentence, should be surrendered to Florida authorities.

During a six-hour extradition hearing yesterday before Gov. Herbert's executive secretary, Robert Ratchford, Fox declared he would kill himself before returning to a "lingering death" in the prison camp he escaped from last June.

Nippon Flag In Use Again

TOKYO — (INS) — For the first time in three years, Japan's national flag again flies daily on three Tokyo buildings.

By authorization of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, the flag is hoisted every day at the diet (parliament), the supreme court and the imperial palace.

At other places, however, it may be flown only on nine national holidays.

MUNDT WILL SPEAK

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— Rep. Karl Mundt (R-SD), co-author of the Mundt-Nixon bill, will be the principal speaker at a luncheon meeting here Saturday opening the first Ohio Conference for Speech Education.

Give Truman One Chance

Newsmen Say Feeling's Better

(BY N-J STAFF WRITER)

EN ROUTE WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN — The "whistle stop" campaign President Truman is currently waging in Ohio, Indiana and Minnesota has given him a "fighting chance" to remain in the White House

That is the general opinion of the nation's leading newsmen accompanying the President on this, his third whirlwind pre-election drive.

Aboard the 17-car presidential "luxury liner", writers, highball in hand, hash over Truman's chances with Democratic big-wigs.

"There is an air of confidence on this train that was missing on previous trips," one wire service newsman said.

"The rousing reception Truman is getting in Ohio towns like Crestline, Willard, Fostoria, Lima and Deshler is being repeated all over the midwest the veteran newspapermen were agreed.

Truman's biggest reception, however, came last night at Akron when thousands of spectators lined the streets of that industrial rubber town.

Between stops, reporters, camera-men and hangers-on, spend most of their time discussing politics. Yesterday, Truman, Dewey, and politics in general took a back seat to Cleveland's World Series victory over the Braves.

Eating aboard the presidential special is a continuation of work for the official party. Ex-Gov. Frank J. Lausche, who ate with newsmen last night, disclosed that the Ohio race is a 'series of ups and downs."

All the big newspapers and magazines are represented on the train along with the three big wire services and newsreel companies.

Robert C. Nixon, veteran Inter-

Immense Crowds Jam Streets

Indians Given Wild Welcome By Fans

CLEVELAND—(INS)—Hundreds of thousands of Clevelanders crowded city streets today to pay tribute to the Cleveland Indians—world champions of 1948.

A procession of open cars, bearing team members and officials, began from Union terminal, where the Tribesmen arrived shortly after nine o'clock this morning, and paraded 10 miles down Cleveland's main street — Euclid avenue.

Swift and simple, but loud and jubilant was the triumphant homecoming celebration.

In addition to the estimated 120,000 fans lining the streets, office workers numbering thousands more watched the activities from buildings and hurled confetti and ticker tape into the packed throng.

Police said at least two hundred thousand more saw the parade before it broke up.

The crowds were swelled by numerous school children, many from parochial schools closed in commemoration of Columbus day, and still more from public schools which were supposed to be in session.

Traffic jams on side streets were many as the parade made cross-downtown movement impossible. About 150 policemen did their unsuccessful best, however, to keep things in order.

It seemed as if every Cleveland partisan were carrying a banner proclaiming Cleveland's victory. Needless to say, the hawker business was brisk.

Pays Tribute To Columbus

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Final plans were submitted to the Pan American union today for the mile-long memorial lighthouse to house the remains of the explorer who sighted the new world just 456 years ago.

The plans were handed over as the nation celebrated Columbus day in ceremonies from coast to coast.

The five million dollar tomb —largest monument built to honor an individual since the pyramids of Egypt—will be the joint undertaking of 21 American republics working together through the Pan American union.

Completion of the monument in 1951 will be fulfillment of a century-old dream first conceived by a Dominican historian.

The white stone light in the shape of a cross will tower over the Caribbean from a promontory outside Ciudad Trujillo. The twentieth century replica of the crosses marking the claims of early explorers also symbolizes the beacon of a new civilization lighting the world.

The site was chosen on an island closely associated with Columbus' voyages. Hispaniola, now divided into Haiti and the Dominican republic, was one of the spots touched on the admiral's first trip to the new world.

CASE GOING TO JURY

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— The trial of four men in the $40,000 robbery of an east-side club here was expected to go to the jury today.

Actress Sued By Mother

HOLLYWOOD — (INS) — The mother of film actress Veronica Lake charged in a law suit today that she put all her life savings into building a career for her daughter, only to be left destitute.

The mother, Mrs. C. Veronica Keane, asked the court to allow her $500 monthly from the sultry film star and her husband, Director Andre de Toth.

The 47-year-old widow also asked $17,416 allegedly due under a 1943 support agreement.

Kid Gloves Removed By GOP Leader

Administration Called 'Clumsy'

EN ROUTE WITH DEWEY TO LOUISVILLE, Ky. —(AP)— Gov. Thomas E. Dewey charged that the bipartisan foreign policy has operated only when the Truman administration "has permitted it."

In his frankest public criticism of the President's handling of foreign affairs, the Republican presidential nominee said that if he is elected in November he will carry out a "vigorous, competent and effective" drive for "a bi-partisan peace policy."

In an address in Louisville, Ky., at 11:45 a. m. Dewey assailed what he called the clumsiness, the weakness and the wobbling of the present administration" in handling foreign affairs.

The New York governor dispelled any doubt that may have existed that he personally condemns —although he declined to say so publicly — President Truman's abandoned plan to send Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson to Moscow to negotiate with Premier Stalin.

He said the administration's lack of success in winning the peace, in part, had been due to its "failure to consult the Republicans before making sudden and vital policy commitments."

These have almost invariably got the country deeper into trouble," he added.

Although he conceded that "many of the obstacles we have run into were beyond the control of any American," Dewey said that since the United Nations conference in San Francisco two-party cooperation "has operated whenever the administration has permitted it."

From Dewey for the first time came such words as "miserable," "helpless," "unwitting," "confused," "mis-named Democrats," "vacillating" and "pusillanimous" in describing the President's conduct of affairs at home and abroad.

There was little doubt on this campaign train that the GOP presidential nominee was making up in this way for his decision not to castigate the Vinson incident as the desperate blunder that most Republicans seem to think it was.

To a crowd that overflowed the 11,000-seat Hunt armory at Pittsburgh, last night,—his most enthusiastic audience of this second campaign trip—Dewey defended the Taft-Hartley act.

Rail Freight Boost Asked

WASHINGTON —(INS)—The Association of American Railroads formally asked the interstate commerce commission today for an average 13 per cent increase in rail freight rates.

At the same time the railroads requested an interim increase of eight per cent pending action on their 13 per cent request. The railroads asked that hearings be held later this month on the interim boost.

The overall 13 per cent boost was made in an amendment to a previous application made Oct. 1, for an eight per cent increase.

The railroads said that the additional five per cent is needed to meet a wage increase granted 175,000 employes and other increased operating expenses.

It was estimated that if the 13 per cent increase is granted, it will provide $1,050,000,000 in new revenue to the carriers

New Bromfield Book Out Oct. 18

"The Wild Country," another book by the prolific writer of "Malabar Farm," Louis Bromfield, will be issued on Oct. 18, Mrs. Gertrude Dunham, Bromfield's secretary announced today.

The locale of the Richland county author's latest work of fiction is in the "wild country" around St. Louis, Mrs. Dunham explained. The story revolves around Ronnie, a sensative young farm boy and his life on a lonely and secluded farm.

HIT BY CAR, KILLED

SPRINGFIELD — (AP) — An automobile struck and killed Mrs. Alice Gilligan, 80, last night. She was a former Democratic state committeewoman.

Polio Season Nears End

The danger of a large scale outbreak of polio in Mansfield or Richland county this year is over.

Dr. Harry Wain, city-county health commissioner, said today that while there is still a possibility of scattered cases, the seasonal peak has been passed and with the approach of cold weather, the danger of a high incidence rate declines daily. The last case here was reported a month ago.

"As compared with the rest of the state, Mansfield has had a low rate this year, and a favorable record compared with last year," Dr. Wain said.

Last year, the city-county area reported a total of 13 cases, six in the city and seven in the county. This year only six cases were reported, four in the city and two in the county.

The health commissioner said that one of the year's six victims has completely recovered and one has been returned home from the hospital for further treatment. Final reports on the other four are not yet available.

Vandals Busy Early

Three Youths Found In Pear Tree, Cited

Although Hallowe'en is nearly three weeks away, reports of minor vandalism throughout the city area reached police and sheriff's deputies last night and today.

Three teen-age youths were apprehended, and authorities repeated their warning that vandals will be prosecuted.

Motorists throughout the area complained of soaped car windows. Three youths were cited to juvenile court after being caught by police in a West Fifth street resident's pear tree. The owner, E. M. Gabriel, 409 West Fifth street, said rotton tomatoes had been thrown on his porch earlier in the evening.

The three boys, two 16 years old and one 17, will appear in juvenile court Wednesday at 1 p. m. Officers said it was not certain whether the boys had thrown the tomatoes.

Light Frost Forecast In City Area

You'd better cover those late-blooming flowers and the tender vegetables.

The weatherman said a light frost will cover most of Ohio tomorrow morning.

A low of 42 was reported at 6:30 a. m. today in Mansfield, but the mercury is expected to drop lower tonight, the forecast said.

Tomorrow will be fair and cool.

The weather bureau's five-day forecast follows.

Cool weather Wednesday and over the weekend with temperatures averaging a little below normal. Rain Friday or Saturday with the amount less than one-fourth of an inch.

Four Hurt In Accident

BUCYRUS—Six motorists miraculously escaped death at 7 a. m. today five miles south of here on State Route 4 in a two-truck collision that sent four men to the hospital. Both vehicles were demolished.

Cecil Prater, 41, of Marion was injured along with Sam Haney, Jesse Arthur and Roy Tharp, all of Marion.

Tenth Birth Sets Record

TOLEDO—(AP)—When Mrs William Shriver, 37, gave birth to her 10th child by caesarian operation here Saturday, it set a record in world medical history, her physician said yesetrday.

Previous record of nine caesarian births was established in Boston in 1933, he added.

Mrs. Shriver's latest child was a four-pound ten-ounce daughter. Her other children, ranging in age from 17 to two years, all are living.

3 SUSPECTS FREED

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Three men held in connection with the Cleveland murder of Sam Monachino were free today after the slain man's widow, an eyewitness of the shooting, failed to identify photographs of them.

Vishinsky Raps Talk By Austin

Claims West Guards Bomb

PARIS — (INS) — The United States vigorously attacked Russia today for advocating disarmament while following a unilateral course of conquest and threatening world peace.

Warren R. Austin, U. S. delegate to the United Nations, drew pointed attention to the 1939 Russo-German pact that carved up Poland. He blasted Soviet Delegate Andrei Vishinsky for his country's aggressive moves in the Balkans and the Baltic states.

Vishinsky, who had sat grimly silent during Austin's onslaught at the morning session of the U. N. political committee, answered in a 25-minute speech in the afternoon.

Vishinsky accused the big three western powers of standing in the way of atom bomb destruction and disarmament "at any cost."

He objected to what he termed "unbridled attacks" on the Soviet Union by western spokesmen.

The Soviet delegate mentioned speeches by British Foreign Secretary Bevin, Premier Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium and British Minister of State Hector McNeil.

He said they all "transgressed permissable limits" and that Austin "exceeded them all."

NETTLED BY ATTACK

It was clear from the vehemence of his answer that Vishinsky was deeply nettled by Austin's attack.

He said that the east and west camps speak a different language and that the big three powers are "just hypocritical" about Russia.

Meanwhile American Secretary of State Marshall returned by air to Paris today to resume personal direction in the western fight to have the Berlin blockade lifted.

Marshall's plane landed at Orly field at 8:37 a. m.

Marshall's reappearance in Paris after a hurried trip to Washington is expected to give the United States delegation renewed confidence.

A prime factor is that it will dispel the hangover of rumors that America might be wavering either on Berlin, atomic control or disarmament.

The difficult situation arose as a result of last week's disclosure that President Truman had considered sending Supreme Court Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson on a "mission to Moscow."

Coal Strike Cuts Power

PARIS —(AP)— Electric power was cut throughout France today as a communist-led coal strike sapped the nation's industrial life.

On the rail strike front, some improvement was noted. There were still scattered walkouts but work was resumed at the Strasbourg station. The strike was to end today at Mulhouse and Colmar.

This will be France's ninth consecutive winter of power cuts. A spokesman for the nationalized French power network said the cuts were not planned for this year, but were necessitated by the coal strike, now in its ninth day. The strike has already cost the nation more than 1,000,000 tons of coal.

Ordinary consumers of power will be cut off two days a week, from dawn to dusk. Priority users, such as hospitals, newspapers and the United Nations now meeting in Paris, will not be affected.

Roper's Death Called Suicide

REDDING, Conn. —(U.P.)— Medical Examiner John D. Booth said today an investigation into the death yesterday of 20-year-old James Roper, son of Elmo Roper, the political analyst, had established it "quite definitely as suicide."

"However, we have been unable to learn a motive," Dr. Booth said. "It is doubtful if anyone knows why the young man took his life."

U. S. Has New Sub With 'Radar Eyes'

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A new unit in the nation's defenses will start operating next month—a submarine with radar "eyes" to detect hostile planes attempting a sneak approach across such remote places as the polar seas.

The Navy announced today that the submarine Tigrone, taken from the reserve fleet and converted into the First Radar picket submarine, will be commissioned Nov. 1.

U. S. Sergeant Uses 'Soft Soap' Diplomacy

Drives Car Through Russian Blockade

BERLIN—(U.P.)—A U. S. army sergeant, using soft soap and phony props on Russian troops, temporarily lifted the Soviet blockade of Berlin last week, it was disclosed today.

S/Sgt. Ralph Felling, 26-year-old combat veteran of McCook, Neb., drove his automobile over the main highway from Frankfurt to the former German capital.

"I just wanted my automobile up here in Berlin," he explained. "It wasn't doing me any good down in Frankfurt."

Felling appeared unimpressed by the fact he had done what western diplomats had been unable to do.

Twenty-five Russians permitted Felling to cash in on a 1000-to-1 chance when he showed them his "special credentials" —automobile insurance papers and a four-language U. S. Army pass authorizing him to be absent from his billet.

He had been unable to get a Russian permit for the trip.

Felling drove his automobile over the blockaded Berlin highway.

He "softened up" the Russians at the Soviet-British zone border Thursday night when he visited them to exchange "small talk" and display pictures of his wife, Mary Elizabeth Felling of San Antonio, Texas.

Felling said he found the Russians in a receptive mood and the check point guardhouse like a "scene out of a Hollywood movie."

A girl in a Soviet uniform sat on the lap of the soldier in charge throughout his stay, Felling said. Empty vodka and German cognac bottles littered the floor.

"I really wished I had a camera when they hauled in a freshly-killed deer covered with blood," the sergeant said. "They butchered it right there and began to cook and eat it."

Cleveland Wins World's Crown, 4 to 3

Today's Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY

BOSTON — (UP) — It was wild, and it was a little sad, as the Cleveland Indians ran riot after their winning of the world championship of baseball.

It was exaltation at its peak, that dressing room. All, that is, except one tiny corner.

There a husky young man stood almost forlorn, smiling bravely and a bit self-consciously, as he sadly-gladly watched his beaming teammates celebrate with gay abandon their arrival at the top.

Bob Feller knew that he had done all too little to get them there.

And this proud, always self-sufficient young may wasn't stepping in on any bows he knew the others rated.

He kept to himself, that smile etched on his broad face, and exchanged affection only with those who approached him of their own volition.

THERE WEREN'T many of them who could spare a moment to walk over to that tiny oasis of silence in the midst of bedlam. There were far too many other men with reaching hands of congratulation and hugs of joy to enter that little niche of sanctuary.

One was lithe Larry Doby, the Negro outfielder who was one of the Cleveland stars in this first major moment that has come to the Indians in 28 years.

He walked over there with that piano key smile and stuck out his big, brown hand.

There were a lot of things—apology, brief happiness and earnest congratulation — in Feller's eyes at that moment.

He in turn reached out with an eager hand which once fired the fastest pitch in baseball and lighted that somber corner with his smile.

Nobody else could spare the time. And Feller, with that grin still fastened to the very corners of his mouth, continued to strip off the uniform which he had helped make famous.

★

ONLY HE COULD tell with exactness the thoughts which were racing through his mind at that moment. But from nearby you could almost see him thinking of the day he failed to clinch the pennant for his club and left the job to another; of how he lost a heartbreaking two-hitter in the series as he tossed one of the most memorable games in the history of the classic, and how he failed so miserably in his second chance to realize a life-long dream.

The noise continued a long time in the Indian dressing room last night but, while Rapid Robert was happy for the boys he played with, you knew he wasn't happy inside.

There were a lot of fellows hurt deeply when the Indians finally took the championship away from the Braves. It just seemed odd to find one of them in the midst of the victors.

Clevelanders Win on Road

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Cleveland is coming to be known as the city of champions, although all its titles have been won on foreign soil.

A week ago today the Indians won the American league pennant in a play-off in Boston.

Yesterday they won the world series in Boston.

Last April the Cleveland Barons won the American Hockey league playoffs by taking the fourth straight game at Buffalo, 6-2.

Last Dec. 14 the Cleveland Browns repeated as All-America conference champions by defeating the Yankees at New York, 14-3.

Bearden's Stopper In Relief Role

By JACK HAND

BOSTON — (AP) — Gene Bearden, a carefree rookie with ice water in his veins, is the undisputed hero of Cleveland's first world series title since 1920.

"We owe it all to Bearden," said Manager Lou Boudreau after yesterday's tingling 4-3 victory over the Boston Braves for the championship. "Give him all the credit. That goes back to the playoff game, too."

What else could the boss say?

The handsome southpaw, conqueror of the Boston Red Sox in the pennant playoff game, had just sauntered in from the bull pen to save the series finale.

LEMON GOES OUT

Starter Bob Lemon was rocking and reeling from the fury of the attack of the Boston hitters, hungry for the winners' slice of the money from record crowds. The Braves had the bases full with one away in the last of the eighth, trailing 4 to 1. Then came Bearden.

Pinch Hitter Clint Conatser, the first man he faced, sent Thurman Tucker to deep center with a fly ball. Tommy Holmes tagged up and raced home, to make it 4-2.

Manager Billy Southworth brought in Phil Masi to hit for Bill Salkeld and Masi hit the boards high on the left field wall for a double that scored Torgeson. Now it was 4-3.

Cooly surveying the situation, Bearden went to work on Mike McCormick, one of the Braves' more dependable hitters in the series. He came in with his knuckler on the first pitch and McCormick bounced it right back to the box for the vital third out.

STRIKES OUT SIDE

The eighth was over but the Braves were aroused. Reliefer Warren Spahn blazed the ball past three Indian batters, striking out the side, and the Boston club hustled in for another crack at that big winners' pool of $230,249 or some $76,000 more than the losers.

Eddie Stanky, the best base-on-balls wrangler in the majors, led off the ninth. Bearden got him down to 3-2 and then lost him. The tying run was on first and the heat was on.

Southworth sent Sibby Sisti up to bunt and replaced the hobbled Stanky with fleet Connie Ryan. With the top of the order coming up next, the idea was to get the runner to second.

Sisti bunted one foul. Then he took a ball. The next pitch he bunted again and the ball popped into the air about 10 feet high in front of the plate. Catcher Jim Hegan made the catch and fired to first base for an easy double play. Holmes ended the game and series by flying out.

Joe Gordon, held to three hits in the first five games, helped the Tribe to its early lead with a home run blast off starter Bill Voiselle that broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth. They scored twice in that inning and again in the eighth but Lemon could not hold it.

SHARP ENOUGH

The Bearden of the final game, carried to the clubhouse on the shoulders of his teammates, was not as sharp as the Bearden of last Friday who shut out the Braves, 2-0, on five skimpy hits, but it was Bearden at his best—in a tough spot.

A mere ball game can't bother a 28-year-old war vet who spent two years in hospitals after the Japs torpedoed the USS Helena. He still carries aluminum plates in his head and left knee.

The Tribe double play combination of Joe Gordon and Boudreau is the best in the game. Time after time that pair around second base choked off Boston uprisings.

The Braves played poorly afield but in the final analysis, it was the failure of the Boston hitters in the first four games that gave the championship to the Indians.

ClevelandOutfielder Thurman Tucker, trying to score in the confusion when Boston Pitcher Warren Spahn picks Indian First Baseman Eddie Robinson off first base in the eighth inning of the final 1948 World series game at Boston, finds himself enmeshed in a run-down between third base and home. Indians won, 4 to 3. (International Soundphoto)

Fred Carver Mows Down 277 Pins For 649 Total

The season's single game record soared to new heights yesterday with Fred Carver doing the piloting as he cracked out a 277 single game on the Colony alleys.

Carver's great work along with other games of 196 and 176 gave him a 649 total and helped boost Barnes Meat Market into first place in the Commercial C league. Barnes took three games from the Orphans to move into the top spot with a 12 won and 3 lost record.

Two other men tacked their name on the mythical honor roll in the league. Bill Black jr. fired 193-209-203 — 605 while Jake Streitmater was one pin behind with 204-204-196—604.

Just missing the mark was Fritz Weber who took a 598 comprised of games of 151, 247 and 200. Others topping 550 were: Joe Frisch 565; Al Baki, 553; Bud McKee, 553 and E. Myers, 553.

Donna Schuster was the No. 1 woman bowler of the night as she registered a 175-201-213—589 series in the Women's Variety league. Only two others in the circuit beat 500. Arlene Peters had 521 and Martha Dye, 501.

Waldman's lost its undisputed league lead by dropping two of three games to National Cash Register. The two teams are now tied for the top, along with Mitsch's Corner Store which won three straight last night.

★

Pete Mayer set the pace for Club leaguers with a 205-166-222—593 series. Fred Schnittke was runnerup with a 580 while other good scores turned in were: Lloyd Pugh, 579; Bob Lynch, 571; Albert Benson, 566; Ed Miller, 562; Robert Littler, 561.

Baku Grotto increased its league lead with three straight victories.

William Cykajlo led Gorman-Rupp bowlers with a 502 series composed of games of 184, 166, and 152.

★

In the Mansfield Tire women's league, Ann Shirkey was the leader with a 164-131-147—442 score. Emma Frontz was second with 424 while Cris Au had 408.

★

Only the Richland A league rolled at Richland Recreation. Jake Schmidt led the loop with a 549 series on games of 187, 192 and 170. Dale Cleckner, Richland manager, was runnerup with 547, while Gene Rudolph had a 546 series. Richard McKinney posted 536 and H. E. Williams, 529.

Madison Rams Face Another Unbeaten 11

The unbeaten Madison Rams, faced with the prospect of meeting a rough Loudonville team in a homecoming game Friday night, may pull some surprises in the contest, according to Coach Ennis Walker.

Walker sent the boys through only a light workout yesterday but indicated that drills will be heavier the rest of the week. Several new plays may be given the Rams to use against the invaders.

Walker showed the squad movies of the Bowling Green football team yesterday to give the regulars a rest from their tough game of last Friday in which they beat Rittman, 32-19. No serious injuries were incurred in the game but several boys sustained bumps and bruises.

TO SHOW MOVIES

Movies of the Madison-Rittman game will be shown later in the week.

Co-attractions at Ram field Friday will be the homecoming ceremonies and the official unveiling of the new bleachers. Madison fans stood at the first two home games, but the long-awaited new stands are now taking shape and will be completed by Friday.

Ram field will then have a seating capacity of 3,000.

Tickets for the game are now on sale at the school and at Fox Jewelry store.

To Honor Dads

COLUMBUS — (U.P.) — Fathers of Ohio State university students will be honored at the Ohio State-Wisconsin game here Oct. 23, Robert Cole, Painesville, student general chairman, announced today.

Larry Doby, fleet Negro outfielder, led the new champs at bat with a .318 average. He had to yield series honors to the Braves' Earl Torgeson with his .389 mark. The only other regulars to make the .300 class were Bob Elliott of the Braves, .333 and Eddie Robinson of the Indians, .300.

Frank Albert's Top Passer In AA Conference

NEW YORK — (AP) — Frankie Albert, the small southpaw who is the big man behind the unbeaten record of the San Francisco Forty-niners, today showed the finest individual record in the All-America Football conference.

The former Stanford flash set one new loop mark Sunday as he led the Forty-niners to a 56-14 win over Baltimore. And official figures showed today that he is nearing two other gilt-edged records.

In Sunday's slaughter, Albert completed 13 of his 15 lefty passes, an average of 86.7 per cent and a new league record. He passed to two touchdowns, giving him 16 this season and leaving him only nine short of Otto Graham's mark of 25. With another TD he scored running, he has been responsible for 21 six-pointers, 12 short of Orban (Spec) Sanders' record.

LOT OF LEADS

Albert leads the league in yards gained passing with 1,219, total yards gained with 1,400, number of passes completed with 94, and passing average with .639.

The Cleveland Browns, also unbeaten, boast the league's leading rushed in big Marion Motley, who has muscled his way 532 yards. Billy Hillenbrand of Baltimore has the top average per try, however—7.34 for 41 tries.

Glenn Dobbs of Los Angeles, who ranks second in total yards gained with 1,216 and eight in yards rushing, shows his triple-threat power by leading in punting with an average of 47.5 yards for each of 32 boots.

Alyn Beals, Albert's favorite target, leads in pass receiving with 402 yards. He has scored six touchdowns, also tops.

3 Linksmen Get Ryder Cup Spots

CHICAGO — (AP) — Lloyd Mangrum, Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret have cinched places on the 1949 Ryder Cup team, the PGA has announced

In point totals necessary for selection, Hogan has compiled 798, Demaret 573 and Mangrum 571 for a wide margin over all contenders.

Charles Signs Against Baksi

PITTSBURGH — (U.P.) — Jake Mintz, manager of Heavyweight Ezzard Charles, said today he had matched his fighter with Joe Baksi for a bout at Madison Square Garden on Dec. 10 and that the winner would fight Joe Louis in a title bout next June.

Charles, of Cincinnati, and Baksi, of Greenwood Lake, N. J., were originally matched for next month but the bout was cancelled because Baksi suffered a broken finger.

Mintz said Sol Strauss of the 20th Century Sporting club had agreed to the new date. He said the new agreement required Baksi to post a $5,000 forfeit.

Big Civic Reception Set For Ball Champs

CLEVELAND — (U.P.) — After two weeks of tension, this baseball-minded city on Lake Erie today planned a civic reception for the new champions of the world, the Cleveland Indians.

A big victory banquet has been planned for noon Thursday by the Cleveland Lions club.

Trio Tied For Top; Mansfield Is Sixth

By FRITZ HOWELL, Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS—The world series swiped some of the spotlight from Ohio's scholastic elevens over the weekend, but there was plenty of activity on the high school gridirons.

Massillon's Tigers, bidding once more for the state title, came up with the week's big one, a 34-21 win over Steubenville which had rolled over three foes and rated high up there near the peak. The Tigers had a 27-7 lead going into the last session, but the Stubbers scored twice to tighten it up.

It was the fourth straight conquest for Chuck Mather's boys, and moved Massillon around the rest of the talent into the lead among the top ten teams. The leading ten, based on a vote of sports writers:

Massillon, Canton McKinley and Hamilton (tied), Toledo Waite, Middletown, Mansfield, Steubenville, Toledo Scott and Alliance (tied), and Martins Ferry. The sports writers still rate Mansfield and Steubenville highly, despite defeats for each.

Others receiving votes were Newark, Cincinnati Western Hills, Toronto, Columbus North, Fremont Ross, Carey, Gallipolis, Middleport, Dayton Wilbur Wright, Miamisburg, Troy, West Milton, Bucyrus, Bellville, Lisbon and Smithfield all unbeaten.

GETS 29 POINTS

Porter King, artist-halfback for Toledo Scott, was the major school point-scoring king of the weekend as he rolled for 29 points in the 41-26 win over Toledo Devilbiss. The four-sport man has 69 in four tilts.

Jim (Boxcar) Bailey, 195-pound Hamilton halfback, and Don Payne of Middleport had four-touchdown sprees, Bailey in the 41-20 win over Cincinnati Elder, and Payne in the 33-13 conquest of Wellston. Bailey had runs of 3, 98, 28 and 90 yards, while his running mate Jack Gordon, scored twice on 65-yard punt returns.

This and that: Tod Dickens of Chauncey-Dover (you should see that school's new stadium) scored two touchdowns in 30 seconds in the 49-6 romp over Oak hill . . . The Sandusky Blue Streaks ended a 12-game victory famine 34-6 over Ashland, the second win in 22 games for the Streaks . . .

FOURTH STRAIGHT

Alliance with four in a row, and 14-0 victor Friday over Barberton's champs, has the chore of trying to stop Massillon this week. John Colceri scored all three Canton McKinley touchdowns, running his season's total to 74, as the Bulldogs pushed aside Canton Lincoln 20-7 . . . Wesley (Babe) Calhoun of Middletown counted three touchdowns for the second straight week in the 33-20 win over Springfield, and also booted three extra points . . . Springfield Coach Jim McDonald says Calhoun is the state's best . . . The unbeaten Middies, shy in reserve strength (nine of the starting 11 played all but the final minute against Springfield) meet Steubenville this week, and those Stubbers may rebound from the Massillon loss.

Austin high of El Paso, Tex., will bring its cowboy-suited 140-piece band along Friday for the meeting with Toledo Waite . . . The Waite boys made the 2,300-mile trip to El Paso a year ago and came home with a 20-12 victory.

Coshocton's Injuns won and lost in the game with Cleveland Central . . . Lewis (Chubby) Copenhaver moved to tailback from center, and Ross Corder, a guard shifted to fullback, scored five touchdowns (Copenhaver 2, Corder 3) to win the game 35-6. The loss was financial, the receipts being $864.20 and expenses $874 —a $9.80 loss.

Bob Lemon Hurled With a Sore Arm

EN ROUTE TO CLEVELAND — (INS) — Lefty Weisman, trainer for the Cleveland Indians, revealed on the Tribe's special train last night that Pitcher Bob Lemon took the mound with a sore arm yesterday.

"Bob had a cold and a soreness developed," the Cleveland trainer disclosed. "I had heat pads on him all night and worked on his arm for several hours before the game, it still was bothering him at game time, but Bob was determined to pitch."

Cage Managers Meet

Managers who plan on entering teams in either Class A or B city basketball leagues this winter will meet at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow night at the City Recreation office, West Fourth street.

2 Rebounding Grid Outfits Play Saturday

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Two rebounding football teams will square off at Bloomington, Ind., Saturday, and the victor will be the eleven that can bounce the highest.

Both Ohio State and the University of Indiana suffered initial losses last week end after winning two in a row.

The difference is that the Hoosiers' two victories were within the Western conference at the expense of Wisconsin and Iowa, while the defeat came at the hands of Texas Christian, 7 to 6, the first time they stepped outside the conference.

Ohio State polished off Missouri and Southern California then was battened down, 14 to 7, by Iowa the first time it poked its head inside the Big Nine family circle.

BUCKS WILL BOUNCE

Reading between the lines put out by Buck Coach Wes Fesler and two of his assistants at a news conference yesterday, listeners received a definite impression that Fesler is convinced it'll be the Bucks who bounce the highest.

Scouts Esco Sarkkinen and Ernie Godfrey discussed the Hoosiers in a tone of respect but not of fear. Both said the Indiana first team, of which each member is a two or three-letter man, stacks up alongside any in the conference.

Superior reserve strength, however, may make the Bucks slightly superior. Fesler expects to be in better shape physically than he was last week when he had Ray Di Pierro, first string guard, and his two best right halfbacks, Alex Verdova and Mike Cannavino, out of action.

Fesler revealed that Pete Perini, star punter and defensive quarterback, received a going over in the Iowa game that may shelve him this week.

GIVES NO DETAILS

In refusing to give details of Perini's injury, Fesler disclosed that henceforth he'll give no information on injuries that might abet the opposition.

Fesler and his aides finished studies of the Iowa game pictures and stated flatly:

"We beat ourselves."

The coach indicated that he expected to refuel the Bucks' flagging spirits. And when those Bucks get fired up, as they were against Missouri and Southern Cal but definitely weren't against Iowa, look out.

Individually, the Bucks' chief problems will be Halfback George Taliaferro, called the "most respected back in the conference," and Fullback Chick Jagade, referred to as "one of the most underrated" by Godfrey.

Brown Wrestles

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Orville Brown, newly-crowned national wrestling association heavyweight king, tangles with Bobby Bruns tonight at Central Armory in Cleveland first mat event of the season.

Lou Perched On Baseball King's Spot

By JOE REICHLER

BOSTON — (AP) — Now it can be told.

Lou Boudreau is sitting on top of the world today, manager of Cleveland's first world championship in 28 years.

Only one month ago, however, the popular playing pilot's position as Tribe boss was very shaky. He was ticketed for other pastures.

Bill Veeck, sports-shirted president of the Tribe, had lost faith in Boudreau and his ball club. Greatly disappointed over Cleveland's mid-summer slump which dropped the Indians from first to third place in the space of two weeks, Veeck had given up hope of winning the American league flag.

"Only a miracle can help us now," Veeck said after the St. Louis Browns had whipped the Indians in Cleveland to drop them four and a half games behind the Boston Red Sox on Sept. 13.

SIGNS FOR TWO

Never a great admirer of Boudreau's managerial talents, Veeck had tried to trade the game's greatest shortstop to the Browns last winter. Cleveland fans, however, came to Lou's rescue, and forced Veeck to retain him. Boudreau was even able to wrangle a two-year contract at $55,000 out of Veeck.

From a source close to the Cleveland club, it was learned that Veeck had made up his mind to make a managerial change after this season. Only a deal for Bondreau would accomplish that since Lou had informed Veeck he never would play for the Indians under another skipper.

Happily, all that is forgotten now. Even if the Indians had lost to the Red Sox in the play-off game, Lou would still have been at the helm next year. The gallant fight made by the Oak club against all possible odds during the past month, under Boudreau's fighting and able leadership, caused Veeck to change his mind about Harvey, Illinois' gift to baseball.

Although Boudreau played an important part in the Indians' six-game victory over the Boston Braves, it was typical of him yesterday to give most of the credit to his rookie sensation, Gene Bearden. All Lou did was to collect six hits, four of them doubles, drive in three important runs and handle 25 chances flawlessly at shortstop. He figured in five of the Indians' nine double plays.

Browns Hold Fan Interest

CLEVELAND — (INS) — The Cleveland Browns have managed to hold their own in the attendance department during their first three home games, despite the World series.

In contests with Los Angeles, Chicago and Brooklyn, the All-America Football conference champ have played to a total of 128,570 fans as compared to 128,669 who saw games involving the same clubs in 1947.

On the road the Browns have attracted 88,187 fans in Buffalo, Chicago and Baltimore as compared to 82,191 who saw the Brownies in those three cities last year.

NOBODY GOT IT—Earl Torgeson, Boston first baseman, looks like a contortionist as he leaps on Cleveland dugout in futile try for foul fly lifted by Indians' Bob Lemon in second inning of game at Boston yesterday. Ball is upper right (arrow) as a fan reaches for it. Umpire is Bill Stewart. No one caught ball which bounded into stand. Cleveland won the World series in this game. (AP Wirephoto) know your athletes . . .

By CHARLIE STINE

A. C. JENKINS, Senior high fullback . . . generally thought of as a defense man, A. C. seems to take spurts every so often in which he runs wild with the ball . . . his most recent was last Friday when he crossed the goal line three times at Portsmouth . . . his only previous touchdown came last year when he ripped over three times against Fort Wayne . . . is now only a junior, but is well-known in athletic circles for his participation in all sports . . . won a reserve letter in basketball last year and will be a likely varsity starter this fall . . . in track he is both a weight man and sprinter, and during the summer caught for the league champion North Lake park softball team . . . probably the least known of anything about this athlete is his name . . . it is actually Asa Charles, but he doesn't relish it any too much . . . born in Jackson, Miss., in 1930, A. C. will be 18 the 30th of this month . . . moved here as a child and attended John Simpson Junior high school, where he says he got his biggest football thrill . . . Simpson gave rival Appleseed a terrific thumping in the city championship game in Jenkins' senior year, 1946, and he had a big hand in it . . . if the draft doesn't get hold of him, he would like to study coaching in college . . . five feet, eleven, he is very solid at 176 pounds.

JENKINS

★

FRED DURIG, Madison high fullback . . . a six-foot, 170-pound husky who hits opposing lines like a small tank. . . . Curly black hair and perpetual smile make him one of the most popular athletes in the school . . . ability to get that extra two yards make him popular with the coaches . . . scored three touchdowns in the Rams' first two games and then went over once more in last week's affair at Orrville . . . has an unusual ambition for a football player . . . he wants to go to college and study chemistry . . . proof that he isn't kidding is the fact that he was picked by school faculty to attend Boys' State at Delaware the past summer . . . the affair is a period of training in government given to honor students of Ohio schools . . . other time during the summer was spent on the baseball diamond with the Madison township team of the Richland county hot stove league . . . although he is probably best at football, Fred is not partial to the grid sport but likes to give them all a whirl . . . played basketball as a sophomore and expects to go out for the cage sport again this year . . . took a year off last year and concentrated on the gridiron, winning his only varsity letter so far . . . despite his scoring ability, the thing this 17-year-old youth says he will remember longest is a play he made on defense . . . tackled a Newcomerstown runner so hard he spilled him over the line sticks and injured the linekeeper. . . . It wasn't anything really sensational, but Durig says it was "the only perfect tackle I ever made."

Senior High Is Set For Springfielders

Senior high's rebounding Tygers—at their best psychological stage of the season—are looking forward to another road game Friday night, a convincing victory in which would definitely set them up as a threat to mighty Massillon.

The Tygers journey to Springfield in an attempt to repeat the upset magic they used last week at Portsmouth. By virtue of their convincing victory over the Ohio River boys, the Tygers must be given a good chance at Springfield. Yet Mansfield fans well remember last year's meeting. A Springfield team which was at rock bottom got up off the floor and smacked down previously undefeated Mansfield by a score of 32 to 6.

Coach Augie Morningstar is taking no chances of another such episode as he plans to work his charges to the limit in practice this week.

LINE LOOKS GOOD

Speaking of the Portsmouth game, Morningstar said that good blocking and the out-and-out brute strength of the Mansfield line made the difference. The same forward wall which had looked pitiful in three previous starts pushed Portsmouth all over the field.

"Our defense was no better than before," reported the Tyger chief, "but our defense was so good that we had the ball practically all of the time, and the law of averages naturally produced some scores."

Without letting down on the defensive work, Morningstar plans to concentrate on offense this week, with a stress on blocking and the timing of blocks.

The Tygers are in good physical shape, although minor illnesses continue to plague some of the boys. Several are out with colds. Joe Miller was given the day off yesterday because of boils and Lou Gregorio may be out with a leg infection.

Norb Shibinski, big right tackle, has a muscle bruise but will be okay by Friday, Morningstar says.

Montreal 9 Wins Series Battle Of Brooklyn Farms

MONTREAL —(AP)— Now that the little world series is over with Montreal Royals beating St. Paul, four games to one, players of both clubs were looking forward to another sort of battle today—for jobs with the parent Brooklyn Dodgers next spring.

The International league's Royals culminated one of its greatest seasons yesterday by defeating their "blood" brothers from the American association, 7 to 2, to win the series. The win completed the cycle in which the Royals won their league pennant, the playoffs and broke all league attendance records..

Oscar Grimes was the hero of the day. The veteran third baseman pinch hit for hurler Jack Banta and slammed a three-run triple which gave the Royels the victory. Up to that blow, the Saints had battled the Royals to a standstill.

United Mine Workers Outline 'Fourth Round' Wage Goals

Lewis Seeks Guaranteed Job Plan

Shorter Work Week Favored

CINCINNATI —(U.P.)— Delegates to the United Mine Workers' 40th convention drew up the broad outlines of "fourth round" wage demands on the coal mine operators today.

The policy is expected to set a pattern for most of organized labor looking to a shorter work week in 1949-50 contract negotiations. It may give some inkling how UMW President John L. Lewis hopes to achieve a guaranteed job plan to forestall large scale unemployment and wage cutting in the industry.

Lewis told the convention that if the coal operators are unable to share the available work evenly among union members in 1949 the United Mine Workers can and will stabilize employment.

Apparently one step toward this end is a shorter work week. The convention yesterday unanimously adopted again a demand for a six-hour day and a five-day week. This is one of the objectives of the UMW constitution. The closest the miners ever came to reaching this goal was the 35-hour week. The 1948 contract fixes the work week as five eight-hour days.

Lewis' specific demands probably will not be known until contract negotiations next May or June since the convention's policy is expected to be framed in general terms.

Adoption of a wage policy and the closing speech by Lewis will wind up the long meeting of 2,900 delegates.

In the only big floor fight of the convention, Lewis yesterday won overwhelming approval for his dues and initiation fee increases aimed at keeping chiselers off the $100,000,000 a year welfare and retirement fund.

Under this program effective Nov. 1, initiation fees will go up from $10 to $50 and dues from $2 to $4 per month. Wiped out are exemptions from the initiation fee for miners sons 16 to 21 years old and dues exonerations for any reason. Newly imposed is a $1 per month levy on all miners receiving pensions disability payments, workmen's compensation or those temporarily unemployed.

By increasing the cost of membership Lewis hopes to halt the influx of new workers who want to obtain welfare fund benefits by part-time membership. The convention also gave the executive board authority to investigate questions of membership on an individual basis.

3,000 Hear Truman

party delegation, waving placards boldly proclaiming "Its Wallace or War," marched brazenly up and down the street in front of the Armory where Truman spoke.

Once inside, however, the crowd was emphatically pro-Truman, wildly cheering, yelling and whistling between the President's remarks. On the platform with the President, Mrs. Truman and Margaret wore orchids presented to them by Mrs. Stapf at Willard.

In his Akron speech, Truman laid down an eight-point platform, saying the Democrats wanted to "build a better way of life." He urged:

1. Repeal of the Taft-Hartley law.
2. Increasing the minimum wage from 40 cents an hour to at least 75 cents.
3. Extension of social security to large groups not now covered.
4. Increasing insurance benefits fifty per cent.
5. Expanding the nation's health facilities.
6. Federal aid to the states for education.
7. Federal aid for slum clearance and low-rent housing.
8. Establishing a board to do something about high prices.

Although following a prepared text, Truman often deviated from the script to improvise a point. "Are you going to let Congress destroy the New Deal?" the President asked.

While the Cuyahoga Falls high school band struck up "Hail to the Chief" on his arrival, some 2,300 persons who packed the Armory gave Truman a thunderous ovation that lasted fully five minutes.

The presidential party, which included big and little shots in the state Democratic hierarchy, a score of newsmen and labor leaders, boarded the train and left for Columbus following the talk.

Russian Teachers Used As Nursemaids

By OKSANA S. KASENKINA
(Edited by Isaac Don Levine)

The little Soviet America in which I lived was mirrored in its various phases at the Glen Cove estate on Long Island of the late J. P. Morgan, the international banker. The place had been acquired shortly before my arrival in the United States as a rest home for Soviet representatives. Within three months it became a source of humiliating news throughout America when the neighbors raised a scandal over the ugly behavior of the visitors to their shores. I was inside Glen Cove during that affair.

Although I had landed in New York in the middle of June, I found that the Soviet school had not completed its courses because of a shortage of teachers. Final examinations were scheduled for July 15, to be followed by graduation exercises for a class of six high school students. Altogether the school at that time had some 100 pupils in all grades.

Late in July I was overjoyed to learn that a group of us teachers would be sent to Glen Cove where the children of Soviet officials were in camp. I looked forward to the opportunity, as I was anxious to be in the country to study the flora and the insects of America.

No sooner had we arrived at the great fenced-in estate on Long Island than we were met by the woman in charge of the children's camp who announced:

"You'll have to take care of a group of little girls" she told us. "Are there no nursemaids here?" I asked. "No," was the blunt answer.

I protested that I was a specialist in natural science, that I had planned to conduct seminars in nature study for my students, and start collections of plants and insects.

"No, no," the manager retorted, "forget your plans. We have quite a few tots to take care of, and that's what we brought you here for."

MANSION IMPRESSIVE

The room in the impressive mansion which I was to share with another teacher would have been ideal for rest. But adjoining it were two dormitory rooms in which 14 little girls were quartered. These were our wards, and the two of us had to serve both as nursemaids and chambermaids to them, from washing their hair to cleaning their bathrooms.

The mothers of the little girls were having the time of their lives, coming and going, and disporting themselves on the beach where another luxurious house in the neighborhood had been rented by the Soviet authorities to accommodate all the staffs. I had occasion to tell these mothers what I thought of them:

"You idling aristocrats, you should be ashamed to turn us teachers into nursemaids for your children!" I told them to their faces.

We were warned to stay on the grounds which, to be sure, were ample enough. "It's best not to go outside the boundaries," was the unmistakable hint given us. My observations mortified me. The famous flower gardens were dying of neglect, the vegetable gardens were unwatered and untended. Poison ivy was spreading everywhere. Wherever I went for a walk, I came upon empty bottles, dirty cartons and boxes. Garbage littered the grounds.

With dismay I asked myself: "How can our government send such people to represent Russia abroad? And why is it that our top diplomats, from Gromyko down, who spend their weekends here, tolerate such a disgrace?"

Soon enough the American press discovered the scandalous state of affairs within our domain. Neighbors complained of the pollution of the nearby waters and of the nudist bathing. One of our teachers, a fat woman, came running to me full of excitement. She had been at the beach, the press photographers had descended upon it, and she bragged: "You'll see, my picture will be in the papers tomorrow."

The papers made the most of another picture, showing an attractive girl from the Amtorg who had been snapped by the photographers in Eve's costume. There were immediate repercussions. The girl lost her job in America and was hustled back to Soviet Russia within a matter of days. A public scandal is something which the uncouth Soviet aristocracy cannot abide. The president of the Amtorg himself was recalled, we heard, because of the incident.

There was no help in our little Soviet America to look after the small children and no attendants to take care of the grounds, but of spies and watchdogs there was no shortage. When I sneaked out with another teacher to go shopping in the village five-and-ten cent store, she looked around and hurried me, "Poskoreye—make it quick!" At the estate itself, when I retired of an evening to work on my speciment, I would find young around.

This perennial vigilance, however, did not extend to theft. I was warned upon my arrival at Glen Cove by one of the teachers not to keep more than a few dollars about me. We had no key for the door of our room. Daily there was an uproar about missing valuables, now it was a wristwatch, now it was cash which had been stolen. Everybody was suspicious of all the others. I rebelled at the indignity of our status, for teachers were looked down upon as an inferior caste.

At our 87th Street school in New York I was plagued with the same vice. There were so many cases in my classes of money and things vanishing from coat pockets and purses that I determined to root out the evil. Several of the students who had become attached to me joined me in a plan to trap the thief. One of the boys hid inside the fireplace when everybody went out for calisthenics.

Sure enough, the thief appeared and was caught in the act. She was Kozlova, the daughter of a ranking Amtorg official.

This was the beginning of the hounding campaign against me. The father of the culprit threatened me with dire punishment. I was taken to task by our Communist supervisor for exceeding my duties of serving merely as an instructor in certain subjects! When I argued that I regarded moral education as part of my task, he burst out:

"Since when are teachers supposed to be investigators?"

After this I was ostracized by the Communists within the Soviet colony. They treated me like a pariah and my loneliness grew deeper than ever.

Paul R. Leach, columnist of the Chicago Daily News and Clayton Knowles of the New York Times are also aboard the special.

The train is partitioned into sections, divided by secret servicemen. Few reporters ever get in to see the president en route. Frequently local Democratic delegations climb aboard and ride in Truman's private car to the next town.

Truman, nattily dressed in a dark business suit, displays a beaming smile on and off the railroad platform.

A host of close advisers among the official party, are in constant touch with the President.

Many of his rear-platform talks are reminiscent of the old time ward campaign, newsmen said. "He was pretty good at that one time, you know," someone advanced. But others said he was stiffer than Dewey when he spoke from a prepared text."

Mrs. Truman and Margaret are big drawing cards in their own right.

Most dissappointed group last night was Akron's social set which had planned several receptions for the party. A last minute change in plans cancelled all receptions except a short downtown parade.

Westbrook Pegler

Blasts Frankfurter On His Idea Of Soviet Friendship at Any Cost

NEW YORK — As we study the roster of Felix Frankfurter's invisible government and divine the character of that network within the Roosevelt government, we have to draw our own conclusions as to the purposes of the head man.

I have established the relationship between Frankfurter and his dear personal and ideological friend, Harold Laski, whom the New York Times some years ago without compunction referred to as an apologist for communism. I can't go so far as to say, however, that Frankfurter himself ever has been a communist or a sympathizer with communism.

I think it makes little difference that a man is not a communist if he be often in the company of communists and deferential to public opinion in Russia as controlled by the communist dictators. Our courts, including the Supreme Court, of which Frankfurter is a member, do make a distinction.

They made it in the case of Harry Bridges, who was a communist to all the federal courts and other authorities, except one petty bureau in the Department of Justice, until the Supreme Court got a chance to say that he was no such thing.

That was the sorriest day's work that it ever did. It meant that not even the government henceforth could prove that anyone was a communist unless that person owned up to it or his comrades came forth from the oath-bound membership to swear against him. Even such testimony as that might still be discredited and your communist let go, but that was just about the minimum required of the prosecution.

Well, so Felix can't be called one of them any more than Roosevelt could have been, but I want to show you that Felix was holding a wet finger up to the wind from Petrograd about 25 years before Roosevelt bowed to Moscow in the cases of Earl Browder and his wife. I won't bother to repeat material showing Frankfurter's willingness to distort the administration of justice here to curry favor for the United States with the original Bolshevik butchers of Petrograd.

It makes no difference, of course, whether the bosses of Russia had been the czar and his court or Lenin and Trotsky, who came on to slaughter or scatter the entire educated, religious, cultured element of the Russian population.

A belief that American justice should be manipulated for the ulterior purpose of building "unity" with the government of another country should disqualify any man from any office requiring the oath. That a President or a justice of the Supreme Court should express such a belief is the more terrible.

Yet Frankfurter wrote to Theodore Roosevelt, the ex-president, that certain American criminal cases were "incidents which were made the basis of prejudicial propaganda against us in Russia," and "affected unity of our Russian ally and the relation of Russia to this country."

Suppose it did. What of it? Are you going to hang Frankfurter — or Pegler — or refrain from doing so to goose-grease some dictator in another country?

The time was to come when Roosevelt turned Browder out of Atlanta penitentiary to promote "unity" between the United States and Russia, the country which he was serving when he committed his crime against our laws.

Walter Lippmann

Criticizes Those Who Believe Peace With Russia's Impossible

One of the assistant secretaries of state, Mr. Charles E. Saltzman, has just delivered an address saying that "we know now" that the Soviets "have no intention of co-operating" in the establishment of world order and peace.

That is, it seems to me, quite true. But I do not agree with the practical conclusion, which he and so many others in official life and elsewhere draw from it—that since the Russians have violated or frustrated practically all the agreements to "co-operate," no agreement to settle the conflict over Germany can in fact be negotiated, and that the only purpose of continuing to negotiate is to prove to the wishful, the sentimental, and the war-weary masses that we tried patiently to preserve the peace.

The error, so it seems to me, of those who think like Secretary Saltzman, is in jumping to the conclusion that because we cannot agree to "co-operate," we cannot negotiate a settlement. They are taking it for granted that a negotiated settlement must be an agreement to co-operate.

Yet in diplomacy, as in ordinary life, there are many orderly, lawful, peaceable settlements which are not agreements to co-operate but agreements and contracts to separate, to dissolve a partnership, to live apart and be divorced.

In my view the failure of the State Department to form a German policy has been due in the last analysis to this intellectual error: to the notion that if we cannot be partners in Germany, we must be enemies; that if the Big Four cannot be a happy family, they must throw the soup plates at each other at every meal and end by cutting each other's throats.

This is quite obviously Mr. Saltzman's notion of the alternatives, and he is reflecting the prevailing (though not necessarily the final) view in official quarters. Referring, I suppose, to the vaporings of Henry Wallace, he says that in spite of all disillusionment in co-operating with the Soviets, "We have been told by some Americans that we could settle our differences with the Soviets if only we would sit down around the conference table and enter into open-minded negotiation."

Like Mr. Wallace, with whom he no doubt thinks he altogether disagrees, Mr. Saltzman assumes that the only purpose of a negotiated settlement would be an agreement to co-operate in administering Germany.

Mr. Wallace thinks we could co-operate; Mr. Saltzman, quite rightly, has learned that we cannot. But it is not only quite conceivable, indeed it is most likely, that when serious negotiations take place the subject matter will not be another agreement to co-operate, another paper arrangement to have Marshal Sokolovsky and Gen. Clay and Gen. Robertson govern Germany together, another formula by which the four powers promise to continue to stay in Germany and to agree on how to run it.

The object of the negotiations will be to make a settlement of the second German war as all great wars have had in the end to be settled: that is to say, by a treaty of peace which delimits frontiers, collects the indemnities, recognizes a de facto government, and stipulates the terms and the time for the military evacuation of the enemy's country.

The idea that wars cannot be settled except by the continuing co-operation of the victors in administering the affairs of the defeated nation produced a new-fangled, and quite bizarre, experiment.

Foremen Hear Author

Whiting Williams Talks at Dinner

Whiting Williams, Cleveland author and lecturer, addressed 200 members of the Mansfield-Shelby Foremen's club and guests at the club's first meeting of the season last night.

The club had designated the evening as "management night" for the purpose of acquainting officials with the organization's program.

Williams, who has written four books and numerous articles, and is a fellow in the National Geographic Society, told the meeting of his experiences working as a laborer in England, France, and Russia.

A former personnel manager, he also discussed the relationships among foremen and employes.

The Foremen's club will meet the second Monday of each month during the fall and winter season.

These Thieves Born In Barn, Most Likely

He entered the open door of Hank's restaurant, 187 West Sixth street, to order a bite to eat.

He sat down at the counter, waiting to be waited upon, but no one showed up. In fact, no one showed up for such a long time that he started to have doubts about the efficiency of the service. Soon, he had a whole series of doubts and called the police.

Patrolmen found burglars had jimmied a piece of plywood away from where it was nailed over a rear door window and entered the restaurant.

They methodically cleaned out the cash register, a metal box under the counter and pried open the juke box. John Doyle, owner of the restaurant, who was at home when the theft was discovered, said approximately $120 was stolen.

And when the thieves were through, they simply unlocked the front door and walked out — leaving the door open.

Preach Disturbingly, Bishop Tells Pastors

By NITA BRANSON

Calling on Methodist ministers of this district to "preach disturbingly," Bishop Hazen G. Werner addressed about 55 pastors of the Mansfield area at a conference yesterday afternoon in the First Methodist church.

"We never had quite the summons before that we have now," Bishop Werner said in speaking of the four-year program which is being launched by the Methodist church.

"We are being sent out to preach on faith, to show how we are saved by faith through Christ, not just to talk about it. We are being urged to reach the unchurched as well as extend the church; to recruit young people for life service in the work of Christ; to extend our benevolent giving so that it reaches throughout the world," he declared.

These four points are the important phases of the program which the church will launch next year and for which preparation will be made from now until January.

This program of the Methodist church, Bishop Werner said, is one in keeping with the general theme of world-wide "evangelism" which most Protestant denominations have taken up in the past few years.

"The church is not living up to its full resources; it is not giving itself as it should," Bishop Werner said in an interview following his talk.

"We have become too perfunctory. Our religion is too much of the mind and not enough of the heart," he said. "We are afraid of being emotional. We must spread our consecration of service throughout the world if the world is to be saved."

For the noon luncheon served by the Women's Society of Christian Service, 160 were guests in the dining room of the church. This number included laymen representatives, pastors' wives and guests.

Basic training of 10 weeks at Parris Island, S. C., will be the first step in their new careers before they are assigned to regular duty.

P-TA to Hear Dr. Wain

Dr. Harry Wain, city-county health commissioner, will speak tonight to members of the Rebecca Grubaugh P-TA when they meet at the school.

The program will get under way at 8 p. m. with Wilbur C. Upson, president, in charge. Jesse Clark, principal, also will have a part in the program.

Following Dr. Wain's talk on the subject, "Eating Your Way to Mental and Physical Health," Mrs. A. M. Colby will present the garden awards for the year. Mrs. Colby is supervisor of the annual summer school garden project.

To Speak at Anniversary

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will be one of the principal speakers at a two-day observance of Ohio State university's 75th anniversary Thursday and Friday.

Dr. Compton speaks on "Science and Security" on the night of Oct. 15—the same day he assumes chairmanship of the nation's Military Research and Development board.

Group to Hear Welfare Report

The group which will present the report includes Judge Henry J. Robison, chief of the Division of Social Administration, and John R. Ferguson, head of Children's services.

The meeting was arranged by the newly-organized Richland County Child Welfare council.

PICTURE TRAVELS—

The latest exhibit at the Mansfield Public library should arouse the wanderlust in anyone. The exhibit consists of a group of water colors, painted by Miss Hazel Underwood of 585 Barnard avenue, during a cruise to the British West Indies last spring. The paintings show typical scenes and still life in vivid colors. In the case with the paintings are souvenirs from Miss Underwood's trip. Several of the souvenirs, a spice basket, nutmegs, and a calabash bowl, are reproduced in the paintings.

PASTORS CHEER, TOO—

Even ministers are apt to let go their enthusiasm when it comes to the World Series. Yesterday afternoon while the Methodist ministers were greeting Bishop Hazen K. Werner at a proper and dignified reception Dr. John D. Green, Methodist superintendent said, "Just a moment everybody. The Indians are the world champions." There was a spontaneous "Huzzah" and burst of applause from the group of more than 100 who had gathered in the social parlors of the church. Everybody smiled broadly and for a second at least, forgot church affairs to join with the rooters for the Indians in being happy about the whole thing.

Two-Day Session Scheduled

28 Charges To Be Heard

A docket of 28 cases, headed by two manslaughter charges, will be considered by the Richland county grand jury when it convenes Wednesday morning. The session is expected to last two days.

Both manslaughter cases are the result of traffic accidents. One case is set for hearing tomorrow, the other on Thursday.

James M. Gamble, 19, Shelby, is charged with second-degree manslaughter in the accident that took the life of Wilford Hipp, 31, of 135 Boughton avenue, during the Labor day weekend. Gamble, who pleaded innocent to the charge, was the driver of one of the cars that crashed head-on at the foot of Ashland road.

James F. Stumpf, 18, Galion, also charged with second-degree manslaughter, was the driver of one of the cars which collided at Greter's lake and Springmill roads last May 16. Walter J. Bigler, 58, of Shelby died of injuries suffered in the accident.

Other defendants slated to go before the grand jury and the charges against them are:

The May term grand jury, however, was recalled to consider the Daniels case, but at the same time it indicted 11 other persons to clear up some of the pending cases.

Seniors to Help Add Color To Halloween Celebration

When Mansfielders parade in gay costume at the annual "Help Hunt Halloween" celebration Nov. 1, members of the senior class at Senior high school will be right in there parading too and helping get things organized on the side-lines.

The "49ers" as the seniors call themselves this year, are going to help Mrs. Ada Hunt Doerr make this year's festival one of the best ever held here in the 40 year history of the City's Halloween celebrations.

At a conference yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Doerr, Tom Swisher, president of the class, pledged the entire class to five specific ways in which they can help put the celebration across.

They will distribute tickets for the dance among high school seniors. Proceeds from the dance are to be given to the Children's Home.

In addition to the seniors' own Prairie Schooner and pioneer costumes, which will lead the parade, they expect to contact industrial and civic groups in the city to urge them to enter floats in the parade.

They expect to be on hand on West Third street where the line usually forms and help get organization groups into place; they will assist at the dance and in the judging.

Swisher said yesterday that he would appoint committees this week to take care of each of the details.

Westbrook Pegler

Blasts Frankfurter On His Idea Of Soviet Friendship at Any Cost

NEW YORK — As we study the roster of Felix Frankfurter's invisible government and divine the character of that network within the Roosevelt government, we have to draw our own conclusions as to the purposes of the head man.

I have established the relationship between Frankfurter and his dear personal and ideological friend, Harold Laski, whom the New York Times some years ago without compunction referred to as an apologist for communism. I can't go so far as to say, however, that Frankfurter himself ever has been a communist or a sympathizer with communism.

I think it makes little difference that a man is not a communist if he be often in the company of communists and deferential to public opinion in Russia as controlled by the communist dictators. Our courts, including the Supreme Court, of which Frankfurter is a member, do make a distinction.

They made it in the case of Harry Bridges, who was a communist to all the federal courts and other authorities, except one petty bureau in the Department of Justice, until the Supreme Court got a chance to say that he was no such thing.

That was the sorriest day's work that it ever did. It meant that not even the government henceforth could prove that anyone was a communist unless that person owned up to it or his comrades came forth from the oath-bound membership to swear against him. Even such testimony as that might still be discredited and your communist let go, but that was just about the minimum required of the prosecution.

Well, so Felix can't be called one of them any more than Roosevelt could have been, but I want to show you that Felix was holding a wet finger up to the wind from Petrograd about 25 years before Roosevelt bowed to Moscow in the cases of Earl Browder and his wife. I won't bother to repeat material showing Frankfurter's willingness to distort the administration of justice here to curry favor for the United States with the original Bolshevik butchers of Petrograd.

It makes no difference, of course, whether the bosses of Russia had been the czar and his court or Lenin and Trotsky, who came on to slaughter or scatter the entire educated, religious, cultured element of the Russian population.

A belief that American justice should be manipulated for the ulterior purpose of building "unity" with the government of another country should disqualify any man from any office requiring the oath. That a President or a justice of the Supreme Court should express such a belief is the more terrible.

Yet Frankfurter wrote to Theodore Roosevelt, the ex-president, that certain American criminal cases were "incidents which were made the basis of prejudicial propaganda against us in Russia," and "affected unity of our Russian ally and the relation of Russia to this country."

Suppose it did. What of it? Are you going to hang Frankfurter — or Pegler — or refrain from doing so to goose-grease some dictator in another country?

The time was to come when Roosevelt turned Browder out of Atlanta penitentiary to promote "unity" between the United States and Russia, the country which he was serving when he committed his crime against our laws.

Walter Lippmann

Criticizes Those Who Believe Peace With Russia's Impossible

One of the assistant secretaries of state, Mr. Charles E. Saltzman, has just delivered an address saying that "we know now" that the Soviets "have no intention of co-operating" in the establishment of world order and peace.

That is, it seems to me, quite true. But I do not agree with the practical conclusion, which he and so many others in official life and elsewhere draw from it—that since the Russians have violated or frustrated practically all the agreements to "co-operate," no agreement to settle the conflict over Germany can in fact be negotiated, and that the only purpose of continuing to negotiate is to prove to the wishful, the sentimental, and the war-weary masses that we tried patiently to preserve the peace.

The error, so it seems to me, of those who think like Secretary Saltzman, is in jumping to the conclusion that because we cannot agree to "co-operate," we cannot negotiate a settlement. They are taking it for granted that a negotiated settlement must be an agreement to co-operate.

Yet in diplomacy, as in ordinary life, there are many orderly, lawful, peaceable settlements which are not agreements to co-operate but agreements and contracts to separate, to dissolve a partnership, to live apart and be divorced.

In my view the failure of the State Department to form a German policy has been due in the last analysis to this intellectual error: to the notion that if we cannot be partners in Germany, we must be enemies; that if the Big Four cannot be a happy family, they must throw the soup plates at each other at every meal and end by cutting each other's throats.

This is quite obviously Mr. Saltzman's notion of the alternatives, and he is reflecting the prevailing (though not necessarily the final) view in official quarters. Referring, I suppose, to the vaporings of Henry Wallace, he says that in spite of all disillusionment in co-operating with the Soviets, "We have been told by some Americans that we could settle our differences with the Soviets if only we would sit down around the conference table and enter into open-minded negotiation."

Like Mr. Wallace, with whom he no doubt thinks he altogether disagrees, Mr. Saltzman assumes that the only purpose of a negotiated settlement would be an agreement to co-operate in administering Germany.

Mr. Wallace thinks we could co-operate: Mr. Saltzman, quite rightly, has learned that we cannot. But it is not only quite conceivable, indeed it is most likely, that when serious negotiations take place the subject matter will not be another agreement to co-operate, another paper arrangement to have Marshal Sokolovsky and Gen. Clay and Gen. Robertson govern Germany together, another formula by which the four powers promise to continue to stay in Germany and to agree on how to run it.

The object of the negotiations will be to make a settlement of the second German war as all great wars have had in the end to be settled: that is to say, by a treaty of peace which delimits frontiers, collects the indemnities, recognizes a de facto government, and stipulates the terms and the time for the military evacuation of the enemy's country.

The idea that wars cannot be settled except by the continuing co-operation of the victors in administering the affairs of the defeated nation produced a new-fangled, and quite bizarre, experiment.

Foremen Hear Author

Whiting Williams Talks at Dinner

Whiting Williams, Cleveland author and lecturer, addressed 200 members of the Mansfield-Shelby Foremen's club and guests at the club's first meeting of the season last night.

The dinner meeting, held at the Richland Recreation Center, was attended by several officials of Mansfield industries.

The club had designated the evening as "management night" for the purpose of acquainting officials with the organization's program.

Williams, who has written four books and numerous articles, and is a fellow in the National Geographic Society, told the meeting of his experiences working as a laborer in England, France, and Russia.

A former personnel manager, he also discussed the relationships among foremen and employes.

The Foremen's club will meet the second Monday of each month during the fall and winter season.

These Thieves Born In Barn, Most Likely

He entered the open door of Hank's restaurant, 187 West Sixth street, to order a bite to eat.

He sat down at the counter, waiting to be waited upon, but no one showed up. In fact, no one showed up for such a long time that he started to have doubts about the efficiency of the service. Soon, he had a whole series of doubts and called the police.

Patrolmen found burglars had pried a piece of plywood away from where it was nailed over a rear door window and entered the restaurant.

They methodically cleaned out the cash register, a metal box under the counter and pried open the juke box. John Doyle, owner of the restaurant, who was at home when the theft was discovered, said approximately $120 was stolen.

And when the thieves were through, they simply unlocked the front door and walked out — leaving the door open.

Preach Disturbingly, Bishop Tells Pastors

By NITA BRANSON

Calling on Methodist ministers of this district to "preach disturbingly," Bishop Hazen G. Werner addressed about 55 pastors of the Mansfield area at a conference yesterday afternoon in the First Methodist church.

"We never had quite the summons before that we have now," Bishop Werner said in speaking of the four-year program which is being launched by the Methodist church.

"We are being sent out to preach on faith, to show how we are saved by faith through Christ, not just to talk about it. We are being urged to reach the unchurched as well as extend the church; to recruit young people for life service in the work of Christ; to extend our benevolent giving so that it reaches throughout the world," he declared.

These four points are the important phases of the program which the church will launch next year and for which preparation will be made from now until January.

This program of the Methodist church, Bishop Werner said, is one in keeping with the general theme of world-wide "evangelism" which most Protestant denominations have taken up in the past few years.

"The church is not living up to its full resources; it is not giving itself as it should," Bishop Werner said in an interview following his talk.

"We have become too perfunctory. Our religion is too much of the mind and not enough of the heart," he said. "We are afraid of being emotional. We must spread our consecration of service throughout the world if the world is to be saved."

For the noon luncheon served by the Women's Society of Christian Service, 160 were guests in the dining room of the church. This number included laymen representatives, pastors' wives and guests.

Several of the souvenirs, a spice basket, nutmegs, and a calabash bowl, are reproduced in the paintings.

PASTORS CHEER, TOO—

Even ministers are apt to let go their enthusiasm when it comes to the World Series. Yesterday afternoon while the Methodist ministers were greeting Bishop Hazen K. Werner at a proper and dignified reception Dr. John D. Green, Methodist superintendent said, "Just a moment everybody. The Indians are the world champions." There was a spontaneous "Huzzah" and burst of applause from the group of more than 100 who had gathered in the social parlors of the church. Everybody smiled broadly and for a second at least, forgot church affairs to join with the rooters for the Indians in being happy about the whole thing.

Two-Day Session Scheduled

28 Charges To Be Heard

A docket of 28 cases, headed by two manslaughter charges, will be considered by the Richland county grand jury when it convenes Wednesday morning. The session is expected to last two days.

Both manslaughter cases are the result of traffic accidents. One case is set for hearing tomorrow, the other on Thursday.

James M. Gamble, 19, Shelby, is charged with second-degree manslaughter in the accident that took the life of Wilford Hipp, 31, of 135 Boughton avenue, during the Labor day weekend. Gamble, who pleaded innocent to the charge, was the driver of one of the cars that crashed head-on at the foot of Ashland road.

James F. Stumpf, 18, Galion, also charged with second-degree manslaughter, was the driver of one of the cars which collided at Greter's lake and Springmill roads last May 16. Walter J. Bigler, 58, of Shelby died of injuries suffered in the accident.

Other defendants slated to go before the grand jury and the charges against them are:

Robert Hall, 25, of 319 Grace street; Donald F. Landon, 33, R. ZD. 2, Bellville and Earl Frisch, 18, of Shelby, breaking and entering.

Usually the grand jury convenes soon after the term starts, which this year was Sept. 7. The May term grand jury, however, was recalled to consider the Daniels case, but at the same time it indicted 11 other persons to clear up some of the pending cases.

Seniors to Help Add Color To Halloween Celebration

When Mansfielders parade in gay costume at the annual "Help Hunt Halloween" celebration Nov. 1, members of the senior class at Senior high school will be right in there parading too and helping get things organized on the side-lines.

The "49ers" as the seniors call themselves this year, are going to help Mrs. Ada Hunt Doerr make this year's festival one of the best ever held here in the 40 year history of the city's Halloween celebrations.

At a conference yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Doerr, Tom Swisher, president of the class, pledged the entire class to five specific ways in which they can help put the celebration across.

They will distribute tickets for the dance among high school seniors. Proceeds from the dance are to be given to the Children's Home.

In addition to the seniors' own Prairie Schooner and pioneer costumes, which will lead the parade, they expect to contact industrial and civic groups in the city to urge them to enter floats in the parade.

They expect to be on hand on West Third street where the line usually forms and help get organization groups into place. They will assist at the dance and in the judging.

Swisher said yesterday that he would appoint committees this week to take care of each of the details.

6 Prisoners Break Jail, Shoot Guard

Three Escapers Still at Large

IRONTON —(AP)— Police throughout Ohio were warned to be on the lookout today for three of six prisoners who shot down a guard and escaped on foot from the Lawrence county jail in a daring bid for freedom.

The guard, Deputy Sheriff Homer Secrest, was reported in fair condition with bullet wounds in his legs and abdomen after he was shot with his own pistol by one of the six escapees last night.

Sheriff M. B. Recker said the fugitives hid in a washroom and slugged Secrest over the head as he made his rounds. Secrest was shot when he tried to resist, Recker said.

Mrs. C. W. Bennett, Recker's mother-in-law, ran to the jail when she heard the shot. She said the prisoners threatened her with Secrest's pistol as they dashed out the door and disappeared down an alley.

State highway patrolmen broadcast an alarm and three of the escapees were picked up less than an hour after the break at 10:30 p. m.

Recker identified the sextet as Jimmy Austin of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Albert Bowles, and his brother, Harrison Bowles; Kenneth Simmons and Harold Gray, all of Lawrence county. Austin and the two Bowles' brothers were recaptured a short distance from the jail.

Recker said they were serving terms for various offenses ranging from assault to armed robbery.

Draft T-H Amendments

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Top-ranking Republican legislators were reported today to be readying three important amendments to the Taft-Hartley act for the next Congress.

The amendments are expected to carry the approval of a majority of the joint congressional "watchdog" committee. It was set up to investigate administration of the Taft-Hartley act and to study new legislation.

An influential Republican told reporters the amendments are "virtually certain" to be approved if his party retains control of Congress. He asked that his name be withheld because he does not believe the changes go far enough.

He described the joint committee as ready to recommend:

1. Elimination of the requirement that unions win an election over the issue before they can bargain for a union shop.

2. A requirement that employers, as well as union leaders, sign non-communist affidavits before they can bring a case to the National Labor Relations board.

3. A new "anti-voilence" section which may restrict picketing to employes of a struck plant.

Florists Meet Here

One hundred and 50 central Ohio florists are expected to attend a dinner meeting of the Florist Telegraph Delivery association at Scotty's restaurant at 7 p. m. Wednesday, according to Charles L. Kafer, chairman of the 4-F district of the association. Kafer is in charge of the arrangements.

Al Demero, traveling floral artist of Floralife, Inc., will demonstrate methods of designing and arranging floral displays.

A report on the activities of the Floral Telegraph Delivery association will be given by Carl Stedner, district representative from Alliance.

The meeting is being held prior to the opening of the association school for florists at Miami, Fla. Oct. 24.

Bin-Bursting Crop Yields Set Records

Supply Will Fill All Needs

WASHINGTON —(INS)—Record-smashing yields from a half dozen crops and near-record outturns from as many more today promised to fill all consumer demands for food, feed and fiber.

A bin-busting corn crop estimated at 3,567,955,000 bushels — 24 bushels for every man, woman and child in the country—leads off the record-breakers. Soybeans, peanuts, pecans and cranberries are other crops in the top yield bracket.

In addition, near-record harvests of wheat, oats, flaxseed, rice, sorghum grain, dry beans and citrus fruits are in prospect.

Yields of a dozen or more crops, including potatoes, cotton and tobacco, are expected to be above average.

The agriculture department's monthly crop report in summarizing conditions on Oct. 1, said "unprecedented production' in 1948 is practically assured.

The department estimated that the overall yield will be about eight per cent above the 1946 record.

D. A. Fitzgerald, the economic cooperation administration's food chief, said that grain exports to Europe in the 1949-50 marketing year may equo l the 475 million bushels expected to be shipped this year.

A 39-million-bushel increase in the corn estimate over September figures undoubtedly will be reflected in a price drop.

The report contained the makings of at least one potential headache for the department—an estimate that the 1948 potato crop will be 418 million bushels instead of the 408 million forecast a month ago.

The government already has bought some 42-million bushels of tubers for price supports to bolster prices at the 90 per cent of parity required by law.

Claims Reds Face Threat

NEW YORK —(INS)— The Soviets, masters of underground strategy, are plagued themselves by a powerful anti-communist underground in Russia.

The revelation was made Monday in New York by one of the movement's leaders, Constantine W. Boldyreff, at the headquarters of Common Cause, Inc., an anti-communist organization.

Boldyreff, disclosing that his group now has "tens and hundreds of thousands of sympathizers," predicted that within a few months it will be so powerful as to make impossible a Soviet attack on the west.

A handsome cloak-and-dagger figure who escaped from Russia after the Bolshevik revolution, Boldyreff said the underground is known as the NTS—"union of workers with hand and brain." Started in 1930, it is now said to have 5,000 key "active" workers. Boldyreff said:

"A force of 50,000 revolutionary fighters is equal to 30 divisions of normal soldiers."

More Meat Prices Cut

(By United Press)

More butchers slashed prices on meal Monday and two meat industry experts predicted that substantial marketing of feeder cattle will knock down the price of beef even further next spring.

In New York, one department store meat market reduced prices to 65 cents a pound on sirloin steak, 49 cents on lamb chops, 55 cents on veal chops and 59 on bacon.

Mark Pickell, secretary of the Corn Belt Livestock Feeders' association, predicted that by next March top cattle prices will be about $30 a hundredweight, about $10 below the price that beef on the hoof is selling for now.

H. M. Conway, market analyst for the National Livestock Producers' association, said the biggest price decreases would be on the top grades of cattle.

The two experts explained that cattle feeders are now increasing their purchases preparatory to feeding cattle through the winter and selling them in the spring.

Government Files Tax Lien Notice

The government has filed a notice of a tax lien against the Daumit Construction company, 212 South Main street, for $9,858.

The notice, filed in the Richland county recorder's office by Thomas J. Carey, internal revenue collector in Cleveland, says the amount is due for withholding and social security taxes, for various periods in 1947.

Communism may in theory be designed to help the many, but when administered as a political doctrine it has been chiefly a racket for the benefit of those at the top.

There's just a chance, of course, that those "undecided 7 per cent" showing up in pre-election polls will be among the still higher percentage of non-voters when election day comes around.

Columbus Won Fame By Persistence

COLUMBUS DAY, which is being observed today, has a place in the American holiday calendar as a memorial to persistence. Columbus was fettered by the unbelief of his colleagues, the jeers of many who could have helped him, and the quaking lack of faith of those who sailed under his orders. Legend has it that he and he alone furnished the courage and confidence to drive his expedition forward into the New World when all others in the party had abandoned hope not only for success but for survival.

Actually the same thing has been true of most significant explorations, discoveries, inventions, and other worthwhile pieces of work. Edison failed time and time again before he made an incandescent lamp that worked, and his alone was the driving force that carried the experiments to success. Marie Curie all but broke her heart against the baffling riddle of radio-activity, but finally she found radium because she just kept on looking for it.

Nothing that is important comes easily. The great works of the world are wrought by those who, like Columbus, cannot be swayed from their purpose. Men with less strength sometimes turn back when the successful end of a quest has almost been reached.

Indians 'Come Through' as Champs

EXCEPT for a scattered few, Mansfielders are well pleased over the outcome of the World series, with the American league Cleveland Indians gaining the championship after a period of suspense which, at least temporarily, made baseball fans out of thousands of people who can now settle back into resumption of interest in such matters as the Berlin Crisis, the coming election, the approaching Community Fund campaign, and whatever local conditions that may seem to require attention.

For those Mansfielders who were so fortunate as to see that spectacular but distressful game in Cleveland Sunday, the occasion will provide a lifetime recollection, and then there was that final game in Boston yesterday, with the outcome hinging on a narrow one-run lead as the Braves went to bat in the ninth inning — what a sigh of relief as the third out was accomplished and the flash came, "CLEVELAND WINS!"

Cleveland comes so near being regarded as a part of suburban Mansfield that the whole thing has the attributes of a home-town victory — at least that's what you'd think as you hear local supporters of the Indians jollifying over the result.

Nice Salary Boost For John L. Lewis

WHATEVER may be thought of John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, there must be admiration of his success in "feathering his own nest," as he has just succeeded in putting across a salary increase for himself that comes close to making a "capitalist" of him.

The salary jump is to be from $25,000 to $50,000 a year —which seems to take care nicely of any increase in living costs that John L. may have noticed during this inflationary spell, and brings his annual stipend to within a few thousand dollars of that paid to James C. Petrillo, as director of the destinies of unionized musicians.

But there are other raises in pay for officials of the UMW, salaries of vice president and secretary-treasurer advancing from $18,000 to $40,000 a year, and members of the executive committee to receive $1,000 a month—all of which appears to justify the approved boost in monthly dues of members from $2 to $4 and the jump in initiation fees from $10 to $50.

Then, too, the miners are to have a holiday on Tuesday, Nov. 2 — that being election day and chief concern seeming to be that miners be given ample time and opportunity to vote against any candidate for congressman or senator who supported passage of the Taft-Hartley law — a position which seems more likely to gain support in other quarters as the experimental value of this law is considered, with some changes contemplated by its supporters.

British Steel Industry More Alert

WHILE attention to British industry is largely focused on those industries which have been nationalized in the Labor government program a dramatic effort is being made by the steel industry to forestall nationalization. The Labor party has definitely marked the steel industry as the next important one to be transferred to government ownership, but is not yet ready to take the step.

The only hope for survival of private ownership in steel appears to lie in the possibility of making it, in the breathing space allowed, obviously more efficient and more attractive to the workers than nationalized industries.

Writing to the New York Times, Benjamin Welles describes the steps which have been taken in the Newton Chambers plant near Sheffield. Training programs for youth, improvements in machines and methods, and more pleasant working conditions have been brought into the factory.

A notable point is that while the stimulus for the program has been provided by the imminence of nationalization, many of the ideas have been borrowed from American industry. The kind of progress now being made in the steel plant near Sheffield has long been familiar to American workers.

It is now being claimed that marine vegetation may eventually feed the world—a crop that will never be endangered by a drought.

The Unkindest Cut of All—To Be Ignored

DeWitt Mackenzie's Column

Communism Is Boring Into Our Schools

THE United States is beginning to wake up to the fact that one of communism's productive fields of labor is the public school and university, where all too often the young crusading mind may be captivated by the spacious Red promises of a Utopian world.

Further proof of this awakening is found in the action of the Baltimore school board in upholding its superintendent in dismissing Mrs. Regina Frankfeld as a teacher because she is a communist. Mrs. Frankfeld, whose husband Philip is head of the Maryland district of Columbia Communist party, told the board after the decision:

"I am a member of the Communist party. I admit it. I am proud of it. Nobody will question my loyalty."

Before the board voted on the question, President Roszel C. Thomsen said:

"No doubt Mrs. Frankfeld is a skillful teacher. The more skillful she is, the better she can serve world communism. No one who supports communism can be a proper person to teach in our schools."

With that let's drop Mrs. Frankfeld and consider in general terms the question of communism in our schools. How great is the threat?

There is an old saying that human nature can't be changed- a fine sounding axiom which is less than half a truth. Human nature can in major degree be changed, and the way to do it is to catch your subjects young.

Hitler demonstrated that to the n-th degree by the manner in which he took over the children and youth of Germany and changed them into willing slaves of his barbaric regime. He did that in the brief six years between the date he came to power in 1933 and the launching of the world war in '39.

* * *

As Twig Is Bent.

I SPENT considerable time in Germany just before the war, and the youth movement was one of the most remarkable developments. The teen agers of both sexes were magnificent specimens physically, but they both were imbued with the idea of ruthless aggression and the girls had been taught that it was their duty to have children, out of wedlock if necessary, to provide soldiers for the reich.

How did Hitler do it? By compelling the teaching of nazism in the schools and by organizing youth movements in which all young folk had to participate. Clergymen and others who tried to combat were sent to concentration camps.

Somebody has said that youth always is in a state of rebellion against established things — always is ready to adventure with new ideas. Hitler took advantage of that. He staged a great show, with marching troops and flying banners. He held out promises of a wonderful new world. And German youth fell for it—many of the older people, for that matter.

Broadly speaking those are the tactics being employed by communism. As a matter of fact, it seems highly probable that Hitler got his ideas about training youth from the Red ism. One of the major points in both systems was to destroy belief in religion, so as to make way for evil beliefs.

The under-cover spreading of communist doctrines in American schools is much more widespread than the average person realizes. It is being done so subtly that in most cases school authorities don't realize its present. The schools are a danger-point to watch.

Wallace Wave Waning

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — Henry Wallace seems to be losing ground as the presidential campaign goes into its final three weeks.

Several weeks ago some political analysts hereabouts who are realists were talking in terms of five million votes for the Progressive party candidate. A few went even higher. Now an average of forecasts by 50 Washington political reporters who participate regularly in Newsweek magazine election predictions is that Henry Wallace will get some 2,778,700 votes.

On such evidence that Mr. Wallace has lost ground, what is the reason?

Any answer to that, of course, also must be speculative, but it is possible to draw some deductions from the temper of the country as this reporter sensed it, or thought he sensed it, on a recent transcontinental tour - out to the Pacific coast on President Truman's special train and back on that of Governor Dewey.

There seem to be two prevailing worries of the people today. Judging from the emphasis of the candidates, both positive and negative, and reaction of the crowds to which they talk.

One is whether our present prosperity will continue without a setback in the new or foreseeable future. The other is whether our present uneasy peace will, sooner or later, end in a Third World War.

Mr. Wallace when he decided to cut loose in a third party movement, accurately sensed the temper of the people. For the theme of his campaign "peace and prosperity" was cut to fit the pattern. That is the reason why experienced political observers thought when he began that he might really stir things up. He may have, too, had he gone to the people footloose and free of any entangling alliances, the Henry Wallace who was considered by many the true legatee of the Franklin D. Roosevelt mantle.

* * *

Tainted By Communism.

BUT the communist associations with which he let himself become involved have slowed him down, like a lot of sticky flypaper, because the people, by and large, are wary in their jittery and uncertain state of mind of anything so unorthodox and irregular, particularly in these times.

For communism and communists embrace both of their worst fears. A prosperous people, no matter how uneasy about its continuance, skitter nervously away from any philosophy which would divide their substance and pass it around, even come to hate it very bitterly.

Even further social reforms along the New Deal line that cost tax money frighten many now. And communism, as exemplified in Russia, likewise embodies the fear of war. The tension over Berlin at this stage of the campaign intensifies it.

It is perhaps significant that the biggest applause for candidates of the major parties this year, President Truman and Governor Dewey, rolls up for any indictment of communism.

Governor Dewey always brings down the house when he tells how he is going to "get communism out of the government in Washington", indicating how powerful is this issue, however specious and phony.

In a depression Henry Wallace might have caught fire in a big way. Communists then would not matter so much.

The people are sitting tight, if uneasily, and want nothing to rock the boat. They show no great enthusiasm for either of the two candidates, of whom one will be the next president. But they are gambling on the form horses. This is no time to bet on a field horse, Henry Wallace, with a strange rider, Communism, on his back.

Year-Round Job.

It has been aptly observed that the principal purpose of National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week is to call the attention of employers to something they ought to be doing all the time in their own interest as much as in discharge of an obligation to society.

One week is set aside each year to tell the public about the strides made in rehabilitation of disabled civilians and how with proper training they become real assets to employers.

But the need for help is year-round. First, employers and the public generally must be convinced that what handicapped persons want is not charity or pity but jobs on an equal footing with other workers; second, the disabled persons themselves must be made aware of the services available to train them to earn their own livelihoods.—Washington Post.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Ponder Ways To Reach Russian People

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — For the past two weeks President Truman and his advisers have been giving a lot of thought to ways and means of getting the dynamite-laden Russo-American crisis out of the hands of the diplomats and putting it on a people-to-people basis.

In brief, it is proposed that Truman make an appeal direct to Stalin in which he would emphasize that the world can never have peace if one nation refuses to let its people make friends with the rest of the world.

Stalin would be reminded of the great hopes for peace which all the world cherished, of the comradeship and common goal of the American and Soviet armies, of the great friendship which the American people once felt for the people of Russia, and their present disappointment at the way that friendship has been rebuffed and kicked around until the two nations are near the brink of war.

Behind the idea for such an appeal is the belief that our Russian problem must be lifted above the heads of the diplomats if they are to get anywhere.

The diplomats can keep on arguing about Russian currency, zones of Germany, and bizonal problems for weeks and months. And, with each passing week, the world's hope for peace sinks deeper into the slough of world despond.

The military may be able to keep up their miraculous job of flying food into Berlin all winter; and yet when the winter is over we still won't be anywhere nearer an understanding with Russia.

We can also keep on pouring money into western Europe under the Marshall Plan. Yet at the end of five years we will still be in a dangerous stalemate with the Kremlin if there continues to be an airtight, ironclad curtain preventing all friendship between the American and Russian people.

* * *

Road To Bankruptcy.

TAKE for instance, the new lend-lease military budget for western Europe revealed in this column last week. U. S. national defense chiefs are now planning to ask Congress for about five billions to arm England, France and the Benelux countries against attack by the Red army.

This five billion is for one year alone. And it will be on top of five billion for the Marshall Plan, plus twelve billion for U. S. military defense, plus all domestic expenditures, making a budget which must eventually throw American economy dangerously out of balance.

This, of course, is just what the Russians are aiming at. A depression, a bankrupt USA is just as good to them as an American defeat in war — in fact, better, because in a depression Russia wouldn't have to do any fighting.

All of which is why White House advisers at long last are warning that the country has reached a diplomatic dead-end, and that somehow or other we must penetrate the Iron Curtain to win a permanent safeguard for peace—friendship with the Russian people.

* * *

Real U. S. Friendship.

IN THE PAST the American people have sent the Friendship Train to Europe, mailed millions of democracy letters to the people of western Europe, given millions of dollars in CARE packages, and shown their genuine friendship in all sorts of ways. But they have never been able to register that friendship with the Russian people. The Iron Curtain has been too rigid.

Nor has the U. S. government, except by the Voice of America, taken any important steps to convince the Russian people that we are a friendly, peace-loving country and the last people in the world to want war.

While Mr. Truman's appeal to Stalin if made may fall on barren ground, nothing worth while in life is accomplished without trying. And when the world faces the tragic spectacle of another world war then we should probe every possible avenue of peace until the very end.

* * *

U. S. Army's Prisoners.

UNFORTUNATELY, several thousand U. S. prisoners still remain in U. S. prisons for desertion, crime, or violation of discipline during the recent war. Even more tragic, some prisoners have suffered "permanent physical impairment" in solitary confinement. This was confessed in a recent circular issued by the Air Force inspector general.

Meant only for the eyes of the top brass, the circular warned grimly that regulations governing the treatment of these prisoners were "not being complied with."

"It is essential" the air inspector general stressed, "that prisoners in solitary confinement on bread and water be given one full meal every three days and that medical authorities examine them daily.

"Failure of medical authorities to perform the prescribed examination has, in the past, led to permanent physical impairment."

Assignment: America

As the Barbers Hear It

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON—If the average man is brave enough to tell his barber the truth, even with a razor poised over his unprotected throat, then President Truman is gaining slightly on Governor Dewey—but the latter still is safely out in front.

That is the latest presidential election campaign progress report of Harry's barber poll. And, regardless of the part (if any) played by the poised razor, there would seem to be little reason to doubt the accuracy of the report.

For the slightly sensational striped-pole poll has been operating for more than twenty years—and it hasn't missed on a major election prediction in all that time!

Perhaps the main reason for the poll's success is that its originator and operator, one Harry Rich, is primarily not a professional feeler of the public pulse, but a barber. He bosses a sizeable tonsorial establishment in downtown Washington. This sampling of the people's views is strictly a sideline with him.

Hence, he doesn't take himself too seriously, or start jumping at conclusions when the race is halfway run. He just keeps the tabulations and issues periodic reports to the barber shop crowd — and anyone else who might be interested.

(In this regard, it might be noted that both Republican and Democratic national headquarters send scouts around surreptitiously to get the latest bulletin from Harry's barber poll!)

Another reason why barber Rich has not yet fallen by the wayside with other more renowned political prophets is that he pays comparatively little attention to what Washingtonians say —although many a high-ranking legislative and executive leader eases into his chairs daily for a once-over-lightly.

He gets most of his dope from fellow barbers across the country. In his spare time, he sends them hundreds of letters, telling them what questions to ask their customers. They ask the questions and send him the answers.

* * *

Some Gains, Some Losses.

THE LATEST tabulation, for instance, included reports from thousands of questions asked in thirteen scattered states. Roughly, its result racked up like this:

Truman still can take only three of the thirteen;

Dewey continues to hold the lead in nine;

The thirteenth (Massachusetts) now is a neck-and-neck race;

But, since the last poll progress report, Truman has sliced the Dewey lead in half a dozen states, showing sizeable gains in Rhode Island and Arizona particularly.

According to the haircut-and-shave (but no longer six bits) citizens, Wallace is completely out of the race. No one gives him even an outside chance.

In several states, a small proportion of those polled thought that Gov. J. Strom Thurmond still might win—largely on the theory that an electoral college deadlock might throw the decision into the House of Representatives.

Another interesting point turned up by the poll is that in several states, with heavy emphasis on California, the customers who plan to vote Republican claim they'll be voting for Warren, rather than Dewey.

Also, it was noted that in North and South Dakota a few die-hards still were sticking to Stassen!

Truman showed additional gains in Indiana, Oregon and Maine, but definitely lost ground in Massachusetts where the tabulations stood at 48.1 per cent for the President and 48.2 for Dewey. The remainder was parcelled out among the odd parties, so to speak.

Stubborn Vermont, which hasn't changed in the last three barber poll reports, still stood at 35 per cent for Truman, 65 per cent for Dewey -and one hundred per cent for reduction in the price of haircuts!

Noises In the Night

By CALVIN A. BYERS

A VISITOR from town who came to our home at evening remarked at the darkness of the out-of-doors as he went out—and called back from the yard, "but this would sure be a fine place to get a good night's sleep. How still it seems!"

Yet there are nightly noises that make listening very often an interesting pastime. Last night I stood awhile near the roadside ditch and heard the strident voices beneath every clod and stone- the field crickets ceaseless chant, the katydids holding up their side of the orchestration high among the coloring maples.

With every gentle breeze a softly muted harp played through the flowering asters and goldenrod rich in tone of sound, as in brilliance of color, touching every moistened flower with a swish that whispered of sleep.

As night came down, and darkness folded around objects on the landscape, the owl from the wooded hill filled the quiet spaces with a voice of flesh and blood that would not let the echoes die.

Instead the echo took up the sound and added more volume and sweet overtones before the solo ceased, and far across the valley, in reply, came the distant quavering voice of another owl. Owls may not be songbirds, but they have acertain compelling quality about their notes that stirs the listener.

Most vibrant note of all is the night voice of Mother Quail calling her brood together after some near-tragedy. Or on the slope, sometimes I have heard the rabbit loping homeward through his narrow trails. Now and then through the dusk comes a heifer's lowing call to her hidden calf, or the bleat of a timid sheep, or the pleasing high whinnered question of the lively foal in a distant pasture.

Higher up on the ridge, foxes bark in high tones while the wind drops, stars twinkle coldly, and frost begins to creep along the ground.

From across the valley, I hear the measured stroke of a neighbor's ax cutting kindling for his early morning fire. The strokes touch every portion of our slope and bound back to bless the one who twice warms himself, and me.

Even in the night, it is pleasant to lie and listen—quiet rain on the roof -distant rolling wheels of a long tired freight on the upgrade- the cat going out by way of the slide she devised for herself from garret to cellar wall. It must be about four o'clock in the morning. So to sleep again!

St. Vincent de Paul Society 'Rescues' Unfortunates

Chest Agency Aids Homeless Children

"Would you please tell us where we could adopt a blue-eyed blond baby girl, about six months or one year old?"

"My husband and I are anxious to adopt a curly-haired, dark-eyed boy of one or two years. Could you please tell us where to apply?"

These and similar requests are piling up daily on desks of adoption agencies throughout the country as well as in the Mansfield area as people are made increasingly aware of the thousands of children being made homeless annually through broken homes. Most requests are made in all sincerity by families who are childless, or who have one or two children of their own and would like to provide a home for one less fortunate.

But for every request there are several who are neglected by their parents or made homeless through the illneess or death of one or both parents, for whom homes are not available.

There are a number of agencies working for the placement of these children. One which has done a great deal of behind-the-scenes work in placing unwanted and homeless children here in Mansfield is the St. Vincent de Paul society, a Red Feather agency of the Mansfield Community Chest.

At the present time a place is being sought in a private home for a 16-year-old boy, who at the age of 11 was placed in the Richland county home as the result of his parents' separation.

PLACED IN ORPHANAGE

At first the youngster was cared for at the Richland County children's home, but because of his religious background it was felt he would be better in a Catholic home, so St. Vincent de Paul society placed him in St. Anthony's Orphanage in Toledo.

He adjusted himself well to life at the orphanage and was later placed in a foster home where his conduct was rated "very good."

I want a home . . .

Then one day his father who had been traveling around the country after serving time in the Ohio penitetntiary called on the boy and promised to return for him as soon as he and his newly-acquired wife set up a home here in Mansfield. However, officials denied the father permission to take his son when he failed to prove he could provide a good home for the boy by being a steady and reliable person.

The youngster, meanwhile, brooded over the fact his father hadn't come for him as he promised, ran away from the foster home, and hitch-hiked a ride toward Mansfield. In a neighboring county state highway patrolmen apprehended the driver of the car and arrested him for driving a stolen car. The youth was questioned and admitted he had run away from the foster home, and, but for the intervention of local St. Vincent de Paul officials, would have been arraigned in juvenile court as a delinquent and probably sent to the Boys' Industrial school.

He was placed in a protective school operated by the Brothers of the Catholic church.

RECORD GOOD

At the protective school his record continued to bear out the findings of the local society that the lad was of a high character. He is now eligible for release and St. Vincent de Paul officials are looking for a place in Mansfield for the boy.

Not all St. Vincent cases, however, concern children. An elderly woman, bedfast for five years and hospitalized for four years as the result of a stroke, is now in a private rest home in a nearby city, able to get about with the use of a cane. She has even learned the art of making crocheted articles which are sold, thus providing her with extra money. Without the extra care received in the private nursing home, where she was placed by St. Vincent de Paul society, the woman might still be bedfast, officials believe.

Two little girls, ages three and five, are being cared for in the Toledo orphanage because their father, an alcoholic, is unable to provide the proper home for them. Through St. Vincent de Paul society, the mother has found employment in that city, where she can visit them regularly and is able to pay for part of their care.

Most calls for assistance to the St. Vincent de Paul society, officials explained, are received in the winter months, when most requests are for coal and food orders from people not eligible for public relief.

In 1942, the St. Vincent de Paul society became affiliated with the Community Chest and has continued to provide help to the needy, particularly to the Catholic families of the city.

LEGION AUXILIARY HOLDS INSTALLATION RITUAL

Committee Chairmen for the New Year Named By the President, Mrs. Dwight McCullough

INSTALLATION of officers for members of the Earl McVey Post, American Legion Auxiliary, was held last evening at the Legion home. During the business session chairmen of the various committees for the new season were named by the newly installed president, Mrs Dwight McCullough.

Mrs James Brownscombe, the retiring president, opened the meeting. Committee chairmen gave their yearly reports. Mrs. Emma Young reported that the Legion Mothers' club had made a lap robe and two comforts for veterans, who are hospitalized. Mrs. Eugene Flory, rehabilitation chairman, announced that rent for a veteran and his family had been paid for the past month and would be taken care of again this month.

Miss Marie Kalbfleisch reported that the Legion Juniors would have a Hallowe'en party at the Legion home, Oct. 30. This will be a masquerade.

Miss Kalbfleisch installed the new officers: Mrs McCullough, president, Mrs. Don Leuthner, first vice president, Mrs. C. C. Minard, second vice-president, Mrs. James Rizer, secretary, Mrs. C. E. Sanderson, treasurer; Mrs. Roma Campbell, historian; Mrs. Emma Young, chaplain, Mrs. Marvin Grau, sergeant-at-arms.

Following the ritual Mrs. McCullough took over the meeting and announced a bake sale to be held Nov 21 at the Legion home, a rummage sale Dec. 3, and a bazaar on Dec 11 at the Legion.

Sons of Italy Mark Anniversary With Banquet at Fairway Club

A GALA assemblage of more than 160 persons filled the Fairway last night to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Order Sons of Italy, Mansfield Lodge 1223 and hold the annual Columbus day dance.

These festive Mansfielders of Italian descent had a triple reason for merriment—the lodge anniversary, America's 456th birthday, and the victory of the Cleveland Indians

Michael Filippeli, toastmaster, introduced the guests of honor who in turn gave short talks. The Rt. Rev. Msgr R C. Goebel, original dedicator of the two flags hanging from the wall last night, said, "There is something which comes out of Italy, that comes out of no other country The art and learning of this people is unsurpassed."

A short address eulogising the Italian heritage was delivered by a state representative of the lodge, Grand Treasurer Dan A. Rufo, of Canton. Mayor Roy W. Vaughn then spoke and commended the people on their civic achievements. He was particularly impressed by their successful drive to aid the Friendship Train.

Hon. G. E. Kalbfleisch paralleled his 25th anniversary of practicing law in Mansfield with that of the lodge. "I know every charter member in attendance," he said, "and I think of them with nothing but pleasant associations."

The main speaker of the evening was the Rev. Father William O'Donnell' pastor of the Mt. Carmel church, Cleveland The genial speaker prefaced his talk with an Italian recitation and then broke into his natural Irish brogue.

"We live in a time of phonies," he humorously commented. "But the sincerity and honesty of the Italian race is something to be desired by all."

The speaker went on to strike at the fallacy of the high rate of Italian delinquency. "The crime rate is far below what might normally be expected," he said, quoting statistics to prove his point.

"Your people exemplify loyalty to the marriage vows and attachment to the family, and there lies the basis of good citizenship," he added.

He also sang songs and told humorous stories, culminating his speech by singing in half English and half Italian, a song entitled, "Angeline."

The banquet was served from long tables decorated with fall flowers and candles. A floral arrangement centered the speakers table. Dancing took place later in the evening with music furnished by Eddie Wadman's orchestra.

Plans Made For Two Sales

Mrs. R J Welsh, Davis road, was hostess to the Bexley Guild of the Grace Episcopal church at a 1 o'clock luncheon. Mrs. A. V. Ligare, Mrs. R. B. Cruickshank and Mrs. R. C. Norman were the associate hostesses.

Miss Jane Arbuckle was the guest for this meeting and thirty-five members were in attendance

The next meeting will be Nov. 8 at the home of Mrs. H. R. Talmage, Edgewood road.

Members Plan Anniversary Party

The president, Mrs. Robert Gettings, conducted the opening session of the Ladies Auxiliary of Eagles at their regular meeting recently.

Labor Board Seeks to Speed Up Galion Union Case

Eliminate 10 Plant Witnesses

Portion of Trial To End Late Today

BULLETIN

GALION — The National Labor Relations Board closed its case against the North Electric Manufacturing company and the United Auto Workers (CIO) here shortly before noon today.

★

GALION — In a move designed to speed up the National Labor Relations Board trial involving the North Electric Manufacturing and the United Auto Workers (CIO) union, ten witnesses will be eliminated.

Philip Fusco, NLRB counsel, said early this morning that he expects the company's case to be completed today.

Two outstanding witnesses at Monday's hearing were Harry S Haney, consultant of the Labor Relations Institute, New York, and Lieut Colonel Richard B. Graham of the Ohio National Guard.

Haney said his firm was retained by the North company to advise them in negotiations between the company and the UAW-CIO. He appeared as a company witness called by Fusco in the union's case.

Haney told of his conversation with Herbert W. Arnold, president of the UAW-CIO. Haney denied that he referred to Edward J Duck (union organizer) and Arnold, when he said the newly formed Independent Workers union at the North company needed a couple of "fireballs."

He said his statement to Arnold, 'think it over," meant that Arnold should think over about his being absent from work at the factory. Arnold had previously testified that he thought Haney meant "think it over about joining the Independent Workers union."

COLONEL TESTIFIES

Lt Col Richard B Graham told in detail of his coming to Galion at the request of the governor's office at which time he conferred with representatives of both company and the union to reach a truce which released some 375 employes from the picket-encircled plant last Oct. 23 to 1 30 a m He named the international representatives with whom he conferred, and said the North company was represented by Robert H Jamison, attorney.

Col Graham also told of stopping a caravan of union "sympathizers" whom he was told were coming to Galion He said they were stopped after he asked Edward J. Duck to intervene In cross-questioning, Graham said he didn't remember making the statement to R K McBerty, vice president of the company, that there were a large number of people coming to break into the plant McBerty had testified that he had assumed authority to come to some agreement in order to get the people out of the plant after Graham had told him about the large group of persons coming into Galion

Other witnesses heard Monday were: Harry Ruth, stationery fireman of the Galion plant, Orris Miller, a supervisor, George William Jackson, senior buyer, George Farahay, office worker, Arnold J Boggs, draftsman, Charles L Miller, production clerk, Charles Lauer, captain of the Galion police department, Mrs Cloydie Beringer of Marion, relay adjuster at the Galion plant, Russell Delahooke engineer, Ira Mabrey of the Kenton, Ohio, plant, who told of events occurring there on Oct 22, 1947.

"Each year there are 450 000 crippled persons in the United States, of which 300,000 are children Of this number, one-fifth to one-fourth are crippled by polio, and polio cases are increasing each year," the speaker declared He said that the next largest number is caused by spastic paralysis and by congenital deformities

HOROSCOPE

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE
For Wednesday, October 13

A SURPRISING and quite unpredictable turn of events may be expected to force the initiative and creative ability into unusual grooves, with wholly unplanned crises of radical importance and far-reaching significance It may uproot old ways and means and traditions, in which real issues may secure cooperation from influential personages Large-scope operations with enhanced personal prestige are in sight due to clever ideas and keen wits. But forced issues or attempts to overact or hammer lagging situations into line could be detrimental and create a stubborn impasse

For the Birthday.

An event or surprising swirl of the wheel of fortune into sudden and breath-taking grooves may be the means of bringing about a revolutionary climax to the affairs, status, ambitions and environs

A child born on this day is bounteously equipped for a creative and adventurous career with place and influence if it will curb its turbulent energies

A head-start for the children...

This was the most important goal of the Walter Melotts of San Jose, California!

The five Melotts live in a snug farmhouse in California's Santa Clara Valley. Left to right: sons Gary, 11, and Doug, 17; daughter Jackie, 14, Gussie and Walter Melott.

When Walter and Gussie Melott married, they were determined about one thing They wanted to give their youngsters a far happier childhood, a better start in life than they themselves had ever had.

But how should they go about it? Where would the children be able to lead the healthiest life, learn how to take responsibility, to understand the value of money . . . have a lot of fun, too? Maybe life on a farm would be the best thing?

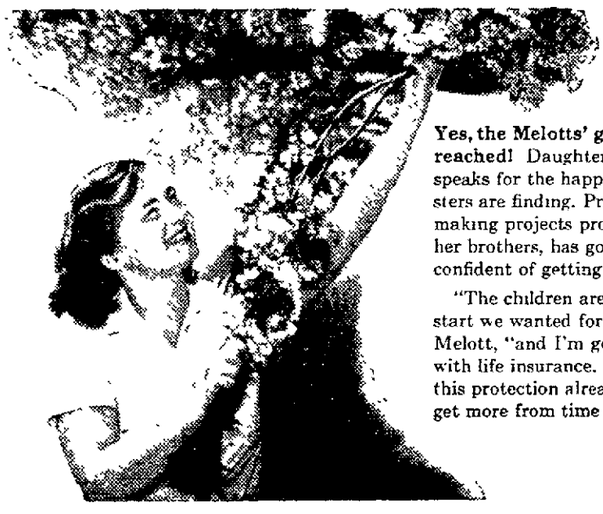
Walter Melott's regular income from a farm machinery job made it possible to rent a 30-acre farm and to start a herd of Jerseys. His $3900 a year also provides for family running expenses, savings for children's college, family vacation trips.

Son Doug soon saw the fun and profit in dairying With father's help he now has $1000 worth of prize-winning Jerseys and show equipment. The prize money will help Doug go to agricultural college . . . his biggest ambition in life!

Young Gary, too, is learning to be a dairyman. Like all the Melotts, he helps with chores, is active in Grange, 4-H projects

With farm products and smart home management. Mrs. Melott feeds 5 for $800 a year' Rent is $780; clothing, $250.



Yes, the Melotts' goal is being reached! Daughter Jackie's smile speaks for the happiness all the youngsters are finding. Prize-winning homemaking projects prove that she, like her brothers, has good reason to be confident of getting along in the world.

"The children are getting the head-start we wanted for them," says Mr. Melott, "and I'm going to protect it with life insurance. I have some of this protection already, and I plan to get more from time to time."

THE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES AND THEIR AGENTS

BRING YOU THIS STORY BECAUSE... families like the Melotts show us one way that happiness is earned! You, yourself, probably know a family, right in your own town, that is getting ahead in the same typically American way. Such families prove to all of us that we can solve our own problems by our own efforts. . . . Their example shows too why it is so important for us to hold to our rights to think for ourselves, to work at what we like, to live as we choose. For what this country amounts to depends upon what happens to its homes!
